SUDDEN DEATH OF FREDERICK FANNING AYER

King Indicted For First Degree Murder

Slayer of Rev. Michael C. Gilbride
Indicted for First Degree
Murder by Grand Jury

John J. King, Jr., of New Boston Road, Dracut, confessed slayer of Rev. Michael C. Gilbride, former pastor of St. Mary's church, Collinsville, was indicted for first degree murder by a special grand jury sitting in East Cambridge this morning. A second indictment charges him with assault on Captain David Petrie of the Lowell police department, with intent to kill. A speedy trial is expected.

This morning's special sitting of the grand jury was ordered about an hour after the murder by District Attorney Arthur K. Reading. The spring session of the grand jury had adjourned some time ago, but the district attorney felt the seriousness of the offense and the tragic circumstances surrounding it, warranted an immediate resitting.

NOMINATIONS OF LANDERS AND TO READJUST BERGERON TO GO TO CITY COUNCIL TOMORROW NIGHT

CHARLES J. LANDERS

ALBERT BERGERON

Nominations by the mayor of Chas. J. Landers to the board of health and of Albert Bergeron to succeed himself as a member of the budget and auditing commission will be sent down to the city council for confirmation at the adjourned meeting to be held tomorrow night.

Announcement to this effect was made this morning. The name of Mr. Landers has been mentioned for several weeks now and his nomination to succeed Fisher H. Pearson is no surprise. The salary is $700 a year, and the term for three years from Jan. 1, 1925.

The nomination of Mr. Bergeron to succeed himself on the budget and auditing commission did occasion comment among many surprised politicians this morning. Mr. Bergeron has been a holdover for over 18 months. Six months ago the mayor nominated Joseph Payette to succeed him for a three-year term but the council tabled the nomination. Attempts to secure a ballot on confirmation and later to permit withdrawal of the nomination were both defeated. The nomination of Mr. Payette is still tabled. The salary is $500 a year.

Mr. Landers' confirmation seems to be in some doubt. It is said several councilors have aligned to keep Mr. Pearson as a holdover. There is said to be a verbal agreement among councilors that all nominations of the mayor which would oust a present officeholder be tabled for one meeting. It is anticipated that this procedure will follow tomorrow night in the case of Mr. Landers. In view of the two nominations to the budget and auditing commission it is conjectured as to what procedure will govern. Many anticipate, however, that Mr. Bergeron's reappointment will go through.

ASKS CITY COUNCIL TO FAVOR 5-CENT GAS REDUCTION

Mayor Requests Council to Pass Resolution Which Would Give Flat Decrease Regardless of Amount Consumed, Instead of Plan Now in Effect

Mayor Donovan today wrote a letter to the special committee of city councilors probing the gas rates of Lowell, recommending to the committee that it advise the council to go on record as favoring a reduction of five cents per 1000 cubic feet in gas rates. This, the mayor states, is to be preferred to the new rate of the company which increases the gas bills of some consumers and lowers those of others. The mayor states that should the city council concur with his suggestion he would be pleased to approve a resolution to be forwarded the state department of public utilities.

Councilor David Dickson is chairman of the gas probe committee which meets tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the council committee room. The other members are Councilor Eugene A. Fitzgerald and Councilor Maurice

FREIGHT RATES

Changes Throughout the Country Ordered by Interstate Commission

General Increases in the Eastern Zone and Reduction in West and South

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Express rates throughout the country were ordered readjusted today by the interstate commerce commission, which authorized general increases in the eastern zone, approximately 8 per cent, and slight reductions in the west and the south.

The decision was the result of a general investigation by the commission in which representatives of state railroad commissions participated. Wide differences in rates between the southern, middle western, Rocky mountains and Pacific coast zones were ordered brought more nearly to a common level.

Fixing the basic rates in 1912 the commission proceeded on the theory that the cost of transporting express in western and southern territory was more expensive than in the east. The investigation resulted in a change in that theory, it having been shown that the cost in the east is higher than in the west because of extensive free delivery systems and extra terminal service at eastern points which is not given so generally in the west.

The present rates have the 1922 rates as their basis and include several horizontal increases which have been granted since 1918.

The basic rate for the first 50 miles haulage in eastern trunk line territory is about 15 cents. Under the readjustment the rate will be about 25 cents. The southern basic rate of 20 cents, which was horizontally increased to 30 cents, will be decreased to about 25 1/2 cents.

In the prairie states, the basic rate of 24 cents which was horizontally increased to 35 cents, will be readjusted to about 31 cents.

The mountain territory basic rate of 28 cents, increased to 38 cents since 1918, will be brought down to about 31 cents.

The west coast rate of 24 cents, horizontally increased since 1918 to 35 cents, will be reduced to about 31 cents.

The decision will be effective January 1, 1925.

SAY LOWELL TRUCK WAS IN BIG LIQUOR RAID

In one of the largest liquor seizures made in this state recently and which occurred Saturday evening in Lynn, an automobile truck, which it is alleged is owned by a Lowell man, and its contents, about 3000 gallons of alcohol, were seized.

Following the seizure, Capt. George B. Palmer of the local liquor squad was notified and interviewed the owner of the truck, who disclaimed all knowledge of the purpose. The truck was being used for and claimed

Republican Insurgents to Ask Convention to Condemn Acts of Daugherty and Fall

BEGIN WORK ON PLATFORM

Insurgents Want Daugherty and Fall Condemned and Barred From Office

Would Have President Summon Congress Into Extraordinary Session July 7

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 9.—Republican insurgents acting through the Wisconsin delegation, will ask the republican national convention formally to condemn the official acts of Harry M. Daugherty, as attorney general and Albert B. Fall, as secretary of the interior.

This is disclosed in an official copy of the insurgent platform made public today by Robert M. La Follette, Jr., son of the Wisconsin senator, in the name of the Wisconsin delegation. The statement says further that Daugherty and Fall "the forever debased from holding any position of honor or trust within the gift either of the republican party or any future republican administration."

The insurgents also would have President Coolidge summoned congress into extraordinary session on Monday, July 7, 1924, for consideration of emergency legislation for relief of agriculture; to provide funds for payment

Mass. Delegates Also Choose
Butler as Their National Committee Man

CLEVELAND, June 9.—Frederick H. Gillett, speaker of the house of representatives, was today named as the Massachusetts member of the resolutions committee, replacing Senator Lodge, who has held that honor for many years.

The Massachusetts delegation at their caucus also chose William M. Butler, pre-convention campaign manager for President Coolidge, as their national committeeman. Governor Cox was selected to act as chairman of the delegation in convention.

Senator Lodge had nothing to say either before or after the caucus was held. He was given a cheer when he entered the caucus room.

Lowden Declination of

Causes Confusion

Borah, Dawes, Hoover, Bur-

CLEVELAND, June 9.—(By the Associated Press) Former Governor Lowden's declination of his home for the republican vice presidential nomination had served today to spread the limelight more evenly over the growing field of prospects.

With practically the last of the arrivals pouring into Cleveland for the opening of the convention tomorrow, the milling and maneuvering took on larger proportions and centered with new zest about the selection of a vice presidential nominee, although sight was not lost of the meeting to-day of the advisory committee of 75 to begin the actual work of platform building. Convention leaders who had helped in driving the Lowden candidacy into what was generally regarded as a commanding position, recognized that his announcement that he would not accept the nomination, coming in the midst of an attack on him from opposing Illinois factions, had reduced the likelihood of

CORDON OF POLICE THROWN AROUND HIGH STREET HOUSE

Man Wanted by Manchester Police for Murder Believed to Have Headed Toward Lowell Where Relatives
Live—Close Watch Being Maintained

A police cordon has been thrown Patrick J. Leavitt, surrounded a lodge about a house numbered 103 High street in Brookline street where it is believed, which is occupied by the wife was known Klepac has friends living, and sister-in-law of Stanley Klepac, a thorough search of the premises was made and several occupants were questioned for information. No trace of the man could be found in connection with the brutal found and persons questioned said he had not been there recently.

The murder for which Klepac is wanted for questioning by the Manchester police, was one of the most brutal in that city's history.

Mrs. Klepac, according to the Manchester police, had been separated from her husband for some time and had been seen in the company of Klepac on several occasions. Neighbors even went so far as to say that he had proposed to her several times but had been refused.

Yesterday, it is alleged, Klepac visited the woman and last night her body was found, badly mutilated, on a bed in her room, which had been saturated with kerosene and set fire to. Other occupants of the building found the body when they smelled smoke and broke into her apartment. Medical Referee J. J. Powers viewed

$11,491 TAKEN IN DARING ROBBERY

Three Masked Men Armed
With Rifles and Sawed-off
Shot Guns in Holdup

Superintendent and Manager
of General Baking Co. at
Providence Robbed

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—Three masked men armed with rifles and sawed-off shotguns held up and robbed Harold H. Piper, and Philip Levey, plant superintendent and sales manager, respectively, of the General Baking Co. of a money bag containing cash and checks amounting to $11,491.37 here this morning.

The robbery, a daring one, took place in the residential section of the city, the bandits using a high-powered automobile bearing a Massachusetts registration formerly held by a Stonham, Mass. man. They forced the automobile used by the baking company officials to the sidewalk, and then covered the men with guns while they removed the money bag from the car.

They made off in the direction of Taunton, Mass., being followed for a short distance by the men they had robbed.

PHILANTHROPIES TOTAL MILLIONS

Gifts to Lowell General Hospital Alone in Excess of $700,000

Many Local Organizations
Flourished Because of His Marked Generosity

Frederick Fanning Ayer, a native of Lowell, renowned philanthropist and benefactor extraordinary, died suddenly in the Hotel Touraine, Boston, at 4:30 o'clock this morning, following an attack of heart trouble. He had been ill but a short time, having begun treatment a few days ago for neuritis and lumbago. At 3:30 o'clock this morning, his heart became affected and he died an hour later, despite the expert medical attendance of two doctors and two nurses.

Frederick Fanning Ayer was born in Lowell 74 years ago, the son of James C. Ayer, founder of the J. C. Ayer Co., and Josephine Melton Southwick. The date of his birth was Sept. 12, 1851.

Mr. Ayer had not been a resident of Lowell for many years. He maintained offices in New York and kept in touch with local affairs through representatives who were in and out of the city periodically. Recently the James C. Ayer estate had been entered in an office in the Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank building.

Following elementary and college education, Mr. Ayer studied law and was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1875. Since his father's death in 1878, many benefactions have been made to the entire citizenship of Lowell and have given him a claim on public remembrance that wealth or success could never of itself bestow. His early enterprise and genius for organization carried the name of Lowell throughout the world, but he will be remembered by his many gifts to public and private institutions.

The Lowell General hospital, $700,000; the Young Women's Christian association, $85,000 for remodeling purposes; the Old Ladies' Home, $65,000 to make possible the addition of eight more rooms; the Ayer Home, $170,000; the Young Men's Christian association, $100,000; the Lowell Humane society, $10,000. Many other institutions have been the recipients of large donations.

About a year ago, Mr. Ayer was responsible for the erection of a new Victory statue in Monument square, to replace the original one, the gift of J. F. Ayer, which had decayed.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT PROTESTANT CHURCHES

Protestant churches of Lowell generally observed "Children's Day," yesterday, following customary programs which included the traditional presentation of flowering plants to members of church Sunday schools, pageants delineating the religious lessons of the day and special sermons by pastors.

Some of the churches held the children's special services in the morning, carol-singing, recitations and appropriate musical selections being programmed. The old-time custom of presenting each child in the various church schools with a flowering plant was carried out in nearly all edifices, the ceremony proving to be striking in its religious meaning.

The children's day program at the First Presbyterian church was most elaborate and was given in the morning. Songs and recitations were featured and graduation exercises of the church school department followed.

At Westminster Presbyterian church, children were baptised at the morning services. In the early evening, young people of the church presented a pageant, "Gates of the Bible." Congregations were large at both services. Rev. Wallace S. Sampson, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, preached to the children in the morning. The choir sang special numbers. At night, the children's program included recitations and songs, with exercises by the primary and beginners' departments. A pageant similar to that presented in Westminster church, was ably presented by the junior and senior departments.

At First Baptist church, morning exercises were elaborate, with special music featured. Plants were distributed in the usual way. At Worthen Street Baptist church, special exercises were held in the morning. At Fifth Street Baptist church, Rev. C. D. Piper, the pastor, delivered a special sermon, "The Arrows of Children," in the morning. An appropriate pageant, "Creation's Praiseful Jubilee," was the evening's feature, with members of church school and choir participating.

Highland Congregational church programs for the day were most attractive. All departments of the Sunday school participated, with the assistance of the church choir. At Pawtucket Congregational church, exercises were similar, with the addition of baptismal service and distribution of plants.

Rev. Thomas T. Johnston preached in Centralville M. E. church in the morning. "The Children's Hour" being the pastor's topic. The annual children's day exercises were conducted in the evening. Rev. B. B. Jackson, preached a special sermon, "The Glory of Childhood," at Highland Union M. E. church, in the morning. Children's day at First Universalist church was featured by a sermon to the children in the morning, delivered by the pastor, Rev. Harold W. Haynes, whose topic was "Making Good Americans." At Grace Universalist church, there were readings, songs and exercises of attractiveness. The Sunday school members were assisted by the choir. Special services were also held at Church of the Nazarene and First Evangelical church, both being well attended, as was the rule at every Protestant church conducting "Children's Day" exercises yesterday morning and evening.

ARE GRADUATED FROM LESLEY NORMAL SCHOOL

Six local young women received diplomas from the Lesley Normal school, Cambridge, on Saturday. They are: Misses Dorothy Mountford, Marion Howard, Catherine Burns, Katherine Thomas, Ethel Sullivan and Frances Graves.

Miss Dorothy Mountford, the only local young woman to receive a diploma in domestic science, is a graduate of the Lowell high school. Previous to entering Lesley, Miss Mountford attended Jackson college for Women and Tufts college.

Miss Mountford has received an exceptionally high average during the year and has received commendation from her teachers in the numerous departments. She has also been socially prominent during her course at the school, having taken part in the cabaret at the school during the winter. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Mountford of 131 Moore street.

LIQUOR FINES IN DISTRICT COURT $150

Fines totalling $150 were collected within a few moments in police court this morning in cases involving illegal keeping of beer. Paul Silva, Charles Burger and Nazario Trevisani, pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and were each fined $50. Judge Kurland in imposing the sentence, said he did not believe that beer does as much physical damage to the men who drink it as does "moonshine" and owing to this belief, made the fine only half of the usual amount for a first offense on this charge.

of soldiers' bonus; for consideration of the Lowell-Parkley bill for the settlement of disputes between carriers and employees; for amendment of the rate-making section of the transportation act; looking toward the reduction of "extortionate" railroad rates; and for reclamation relief legislation extending the time of payment to farmers on government reclamation projects. It is further declared that the convention system of nominating presidential and vice presidential candidates "has failed" and the senate and house members should be urged to "initiate and support such constitutional amendment and legislation as may be necessary to provide for direct nomination and election by the people of the United States of candidates for president and vice president."

The convention will be asked by the insurgents to extend its congratulations to 31 republican senators and 211 republican representatives for display of courage and independence in opposing the tax bill enacted into law by both houses of congress and signed by the president, as a substitute for the Mellon plan.

In this connection, request is made for legislation to give "full and complete publicity on tax returns" and for a "pledge to the American people that neither the Mellon plan nor any other tax bill providing for unwarranted reductions in surtaxes of multi-millionaires and profiteering corporations shall receive the support of the republican party in any future session of congress."

Another plank proposed by the Wisconsin delegation in its statement provides that neither the republican national committee nor the republican congressional nor senatorial campaign committees in the presidential and congressional campaigns of 1924, "shall accept any contribution in any amount whatsoever from any individual or from any individual connected in any way with any corporation, subject to presentation as a trust or monopoly or other illegal combination or having any interest in oil, coal, timber or other natural resources found on the public domain."

Republican regulars assembled in conference from time to time during the day with Charles B. Warren of Detroit, selected for the chairmanship of the resolutions committee. Among those present for the greater time with Mr. Warren were William S. Ware, Pennsylvania and Ogden Mills of New York both of whom will represent their delegations on the resolutions committee.

Mr. Ware and Mr. Mills who were in consultation with Pres. Coolidge at the White House just before they left the national capital for Cleveland are known to be influential in the president's desires on platform planks, particularly that dealing with the world coal issue.

In this connection Mr. Warren said today he had been strengthened in the belief, as a result of the conversations he had had on the coal plank, that the issue could be adjusted in a way that would permit the convention to endorse the coal idea and, at the same time, bring the party and the president's policy into accord.

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE COMMENCEMENT

ORONO, Me., June 8.—The tremendous material developments of the last 50 years have not been accompanied by a corresponding development of the intellectual powers with regard to the higher things of life, said Dr. Francis B. Benedict in his address at the University of Maine commencement today. Dr. Benedict, director of the nutrition laboratory of the Carnegie Institution at Washington.

Dr. Benedict said that the public schools adopt the spirit of modern research for not only instilling the spirit of research into the students but likewise of actually accomplishing research. To merit well of one's country it is not necessary to take part in brilliant public functions that have to do with the organization and regeneration of empires. The nation, he said, may also perform patriotic functions in the silence of its laboratory. "All of our research workers are primarily impelled by a feeling and desire to benefit the world. There is a spirit of service which is a service to both God and man. The mission of the research spirit throughout our entire educational system cannot, in my judgment, make except for a wider visioned, better and more tolerant nation."

LOWELL POLICE SENT TO DOVER, N. H.

A detail of eleven Lowell policemen, under command of Sgt. Michael Winn, left this city for Dover, N. H., at 1 o'clock this morning to assist the police of the New Hampshire city should any trouble arise between the American Federation of Labor unionists, who returned to work today after being on strike for a long period, and the Industrial Workers of the World members, who opposed this action.

The Dover city marshal feared a clash between the opposing labor group and yesterday requested Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson to send as many men as could be spared to assist his officers in keeping the peace. The detail, in addition to Sgt. Winn, consisted of the following: Daniel M. Lynch, William P. Nelson, Arthur Chrimo, Patrick P. Leavitt, Francis E. Ready, Owen S. Conway, Francis M. O'Loughlin, James P. Brosnan, William P. Linton and John J. Leahy.

he loaned the truck to a friend Saturday. The sensational seizure was made by Lynn officers late Saturday evening. A truck was stopped on a main thoroughfare by a Lynn policeman and after investigation disclosed its load consisted of alcohol. Two other trucks, which it is alleged were part of a single conveyance, managed to escape detection at this time but their drivers apparently feared to drive them through the city and put them in a garage which it is claimed was owned by Mayor McPherson. A neighbor of the mayor's seeing the trucks placed in his garage and knowing he was out of town, notified the police. A detail of officers investigated and seized the trucks, one of which it is alleged, is owned by a Lowell party. Capt. Palmer said this morning that no arrests are expected in this city in connection with the seizure.

ANNOUNCES DISCOVERY OF CURE FOR CANCER

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—The North American says today in an article withheld from publication for 15 months "in the interest of science," that the cause of cancer has been discovered; also a treatment for it, which, though still in experimental stage, "is producing remarkable results."

The discoverer is Dr. T. J. Glover, a native of Toronto, Can., who, the article will say, has established scientifically that the disease is due to a micro-organism and who has isolated the germ and proved by the "conclusive laboratory test known as the Koch test" its part as the causative factor. Dr. Glover has conducted his research work in New York city for four years.

The antitoxic serum developed by Dr. Glover, the article will say, apparently is effective in the treatment of carcinoma, the commonest and most destructive form of cancer. Continuing, the North American will say:

"Dr. Glover first succeeded in inoculating animals with the germ he had isolated in certified specimens of cancer from human beings, and with it reproduced the disease in monkeys and all immune animals. When, through injection of the serum, he arrested or modified its course, and later immunized scores of such animals against infection."

Within the last two years this serum has been tested on more than 200 cases of cancer confined to the stomach, colon, rectum, bladder, prostate gland, X-ray and clinical histories, and in every stage of development, from incipientcy to hopelessness. Nearly 100 of these have been treated in the National Stomach hospital in Philadelphia, where the most complete tests have been made and the largest number of patients observed.

"In a majority of these cases favorable results have been secured and in some instances the subjects have been discharged as symptom-free, a condition which the physician would call cured."

"This discovery of the cancer germ leads logically to the hope that a method soon may be found for determining the presence of the micro-organism in the blood, thus making incipientcy and its prevention possible. Dr. Glover already has made significant experiments along this line, with decidedly encouraging results."

Began Research Work Early
"He first began his research work in this field soon after being graduated from the medical school of the University of Toronto in 1911, and was continuously employed in it until he came to New York. There one of his lost cases, attracted the attention of a wealthy business man, who for three years has anonymously financed his laboratory work and the production of the serum."

"From the process of obtaining this serum Dr. Glover has followed a method similar to that followed in the case of diphtheria antitoxin, in that the horse is the medium. It has been carried on solely under Dr. Glover's personal supervision, even to such details as the selection of the animals and their inoculation and the period of resting, covering a period of at least 18 months."

"Dr. Glover has distributed a limited amount of the serum to hospitals in various parts of the country to be tested under pledge of secrecy and without charge, pending the official announcement. From these experimental clinics have been received highly favorable reports of results which coincide with the results obtained in Philadelphia over a period of 18 months."

"Associated in the work with Dr. Glover are two Philadelphia physicians, Dr. J. F. Donnelly and Dr. M. P. Warram, both members of the staff of the National Stomach hospital, where the first clinic was established late in 1922. To these doctors was assigned the work of determining the value of the serum in practical use, the best method of administration and proper dosage."

"The discovery is expected to be presented before a medical society within six weeks."

MURDER MYSTERY AT MANCHESTER, N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Guided by the smell of Mrs. Imogene E. Lewis, president of the Manchester League, early last night went to the room of Mrs. Katherine Kruezek, 35, and found the woman dead, with knife wounds about the body and her face crushed in by some blunt instrument.

An attempt had been made to burn the body by pouring kerosene over it and igniting the oil.

Police are looking for Stanley Klepek, known to have been a friend of Mrs. Kruezek. They desire to question him for information concerning Mrs. Kruezek's actions before her death.

Mrs. Kruezek was separated from her husband.

FOR CHEAPER GRADE SHOE
BROOKTON, June 8.—A special committee from a joint committee of the Manufacturers' association to confer on a cheaper grade shoe proposition submitted by the Wall, Doyle and Daly Co., and the Diamond Shoe Co.

Following the conference a call was issued for a special meeting of the entire shoe industry for this morning to hear the report of the committee attending the day meeting.

In view of local industrial conditions, it is believed that the local unions will act favorably on the proposition.

Lowell Police Seek Murderer
of the body and reported death due to multiple cuts about the head and neck caused by a sharp instrument and that the victim's face had been battered in apparently by the blunt end of an axe. Attorney General Irving C. Buckley, of New Hampshire, was notified and joined with the Manchester police in investigating the case. As a result of their investigation, the Lowell police were warned to be on the lookout for Klepek and to arrest him on sight for the Manchester authorities.

SAYS SEN. WATSON IS K. K. K. CANDIDATE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 8.—Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans of the Ku Klux Klan on his arrival from Atlanta today, came out with a declaration for Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, as the Klan's candidate for vice-president.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS OF $400,000,000
WASHINGTON, June 8.—The government will close its books for this fiscal year on June 30, with a surplus of between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000, said Director Lord of the budget bureau today informed President Coolidge.

The Ayer benefactions started a little more than twenty years ago—about the year 1905, the first gift in direct hand aid of the hospital being a check for $100,000. Later on, checks of good size were contributed whenever the hospital needs and aspirations called for financial aid.

Mr. Ayer was responsible for the establishment of the first outdoor camps for the treatment of tuberculosis in this city. The finances were handled by Mr. Ayer exclusively, although the results of the venture did not meet with his highest wishes.

The different building additions made to the general hospital in the years that followed the first liberal benefactions were provided for by Ayer gifts in money in abundance through all worthy efforts promoted for the benefit of Lowell and its inhabitants.

Other Benefactions
In January, 1919, he made a gift of $25,000 to the Lowell Day Nursery association, $50,000 for an endowment fund and $25,000 to pay off the indebtedness of the association after the purchase of the property in Kirk street. In all, Mr. Ayer had given the Lowell Day Nursery association about $70,000.

Indeed, if it had not been for the generosity of Mr. Ayer, it is doubtful if the Lowell Textile school would enjoy the high distinction it does at the present time. In all, Mr. Ayer made gifts of $160,000 to the school, including Southwick hall, named after his mother, Josephine Mellon Southwick.

The Ayer home in Pawtucket street existed for many years through Mr. Ayer's generosity. The Ayer home in 1919 received a gift of $18,000. To the town of Ayer, Mr. Ayer presented a memorial library costing $10,000, and there were other gifts to Lowell institutions and outside organizations which never have been publicly known.

Mr. Ayer was the majority stockholder of the Tremont and Suffolk mills of Lowell, a director of the J. C. Ayer company, a director of the New York Tribune association, a director of the Keweenaw Association, Ltd., and for a number of years was president of the Lowell and Andover railroad.

Mr. Ayer never married and is survived only by a brother and a sister.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 14

Of course all of the riders had white tights on. The little girl wore a little skirt and a fancy bow in her hair. Jack thought she looked very pretty. He was wondering what he would wear when a bundle of clothing was brought in to him. "This will make the crowd laugh," said the rider.

Jack was very much surprised to find a long pair of trousers, a checkered blouse, large shoes and a tall silk hat. "Better put those on," laughed the little girl. "You will look funny in them and all of the children will laugh." So Jack was helped into the queer looking outfit.

Shortly a beautiful white horse was led up to the outside of the little tent. "This is the horse we ride," explained the girl. "Come on now, it is time for us to go in." So Jack and the riders walked to the main ring of the big tent again. The horse started running around. (Continued.)

SMITH FOR STATE LAW ON LIQUORS

Congress to Fix Sensible Maximum and Leave Rest to Each State

Says K. K. K. Contrary to Principles Upon Which Country Was Founded

NEW YORK, June 9.—A revision of the Volstead act to allow states to dispose of liquor as they see fit, is urged by Governor Alfred E. Smith, in the first public statement on the subject issued since he became a candidate for the democratic nomination for president.

Governor Smith, in replying to an inquiry regarding his stand on prohibition, also said he believed the Ku Klux Klan to be "contrary to the very principles upon which this country was founded."

He said he favored having congress fix a maximum of alcoholic content "based upon science and sound reasoning," allowing each state to establish for itself whatever alcoholic content it chose, so long as it did not overstep the limit set in the national law. Whatever alcoholic strength is made legal in future, the saloon has gone for good, he believes.

He urged strengthening of the federal laws with regard to interstate commerce and the importation of strong liquors. He said that most of the liquor consumed in this state was smuggled from foreign countries.

The governor stated his views in a letter to H. Robertson Brown of New York, chairman of the Self-Determination League of Liberty.

Mr. Brown had written to ask the governor where he stood on the prohibition question and what he thought of the reported efforts of the governor's friends to prevent the insertion of an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank in the democratic platform.

Would Fix Alcohol Standard

"I maintain that the present hypocritical attitude towards the whole question of prohibition would be greatly relieved," wrote the governor, "by having congress fix a maximum alcoholic content based upon science and sound reasoning, thereafter leaving every state to enact any statute it pleases with regard to regulation of the traffic in light wines and beer within that alcoholic content, so that the state that desires strict prohibition may have it, and the state that desires light wines and beer within the alcohol content prescribed by congress may also have what it desires."

"A reasonable and practical change in the Volstead law, which would honestly serve the cause of temperance, would make a valuable contribution to public action against hard liquor, which is undoubtedly put under the ban by the language of the 18th amendment."

Of course you understand that this is the expression of my individual opinion by the people themselves through their elected representatives in the congress of the United States."

For Retention by States

"The amount of light wines and beer to be sold in states that choose to legalize the traffic, as well as the manner and media of their sale, should be left to the states themselves," said the governor. "The state might well say that it could be sold only for consumption in the home, or it might well say it could be sold only in properly regulated hotels and restaurants."

Saloon Gone for Good

Whatever alcoholic strength is made legal in future, the saloon has gone for good, the governor believes. He referred to a memorandum that he issued when he signed the bill repealing the Mulan-Gage act, the New York state prohibition law which followed the lines of the Volstead act, and added: "I repeat the declaration I there made that the saloon is and ought to be a definite institution in this country. I never expect to see it again."

The governor asserted he had always favored strict enforcement of all laws, and that he had maintained last winter a substantial increase in the state police force to suppress violations of the Volstead act.

Sinful for Enforcement

He said he had made clear in the Mulan-Gage memorandum his determination to enforce the federal prohibition law. "I have never failed since then," he added, "to give my personal attention to any and all complaints that have been made to me about any lack of law enforcement, following any such complaint with all the detailed work that goes with it."

The governor urged strengthening of the federal laws with regard to interstate commerce and the importation of strong liquors. He said that most of the liquor consumed in this state was smuggled from foreign countries.

Says Traffic Can Be Stopped

"If the federal government sincerely and honestly desired to limit that traffic, it is within its power to do it," he asserted. "I cannot help taking my position with those who believe that the attitude taken by the government at Washington on the question of prohibition is one that is intended to fast the 'drys' and, whether consciously or unconsciously to leave the 'wet' open to a certain form of political blackmail."

Speaking of the Ku Klux Klan, the governor said:

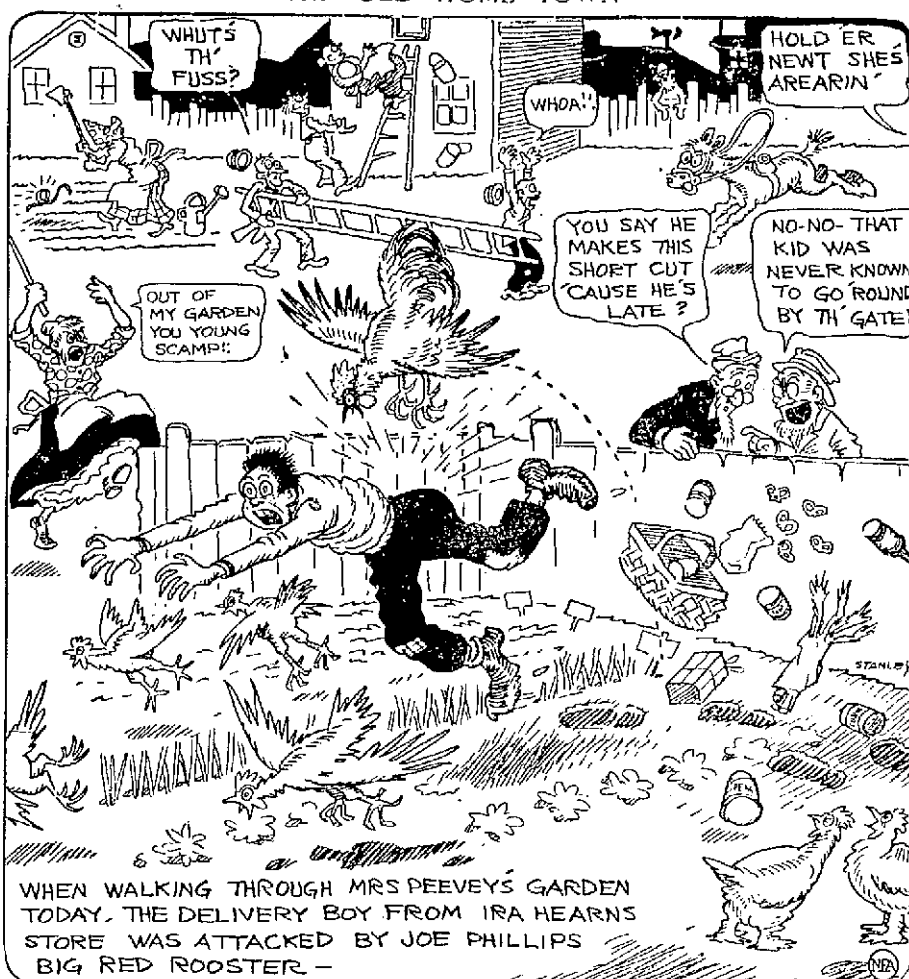

In the latter part of your letter you speak about the attitude of my friends to an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank in the democratic national platform.

Condemns Ku Klux

"I do not know what you mean by my friends. I have a great many of them. None of them thinks for me. I think for myself."

"It seems almost a waste of time, after my long public career, for it to be necessary for me to say anything about any individual or group of individuals or any organization that questions the constitutionality, the race, the creed or the religion of any American."

"Have repeatedly said in public speech that nothing is or could be so

contrary to the very principles upon which this country was founded.

Liberty Within the Law

"I take that liberty to mean liberty within law, and certainly it is within the law that any man worships God according to his own inclination. Certainly that declaration draws no color line and certainly it was intended to refer to all citizens, whether born under the flag or whether brought under it by an oath of allegiance to it."

"There is no committee or any other power that I know of that will at this time or at any other time prevent me from giving free expression to just what I think about any public question. I make as many mistakes as any other human being, but I will never make the mistake of being afraid to talk out."

NEW YORK, June 9.—Mighty few men have ridden on trains as much as Fred Garrison, a New York Central railroad conductor, for the last 17 years, who started out yesterday to spend a month's vacation riding. He has ridden 750,000 miles as a business.

He is off now to add 10,000 more to his record—this time as a diversion. "It isn't how many miles a fellow travels," Garrison said, "but how far he gets that counts."

Garrison who has been a conductor on the Hudson division of the New York Central most of the time, will visit Seattle, San Francisco and points between.

EX-CROWN PRINCE MAY GO TO ITALY

ROME, June 9.—The former crown prince of Germany is seeking a home in Florence. Members of his entourage today visited the beautiful Italian city in the suburbs of which the former Queen Sophie resides, on a hunt for a suitable villa for "Little Willie's" family.

The Italian government recently gave permission to William Hohenzollern, Jr., to establish a permanent residence in Italy, provided he only that he selected a spot nowhere near the German border, leaving in Germany had become unbearable to the former crown prince. It is generally known, as he was continuously under surveillance.

PRESENTS CABINET OF MINERALS TO SCHOOL

Mrs. Charles S. Proctor, formerly a teacher at the Lowell high school, has presented the school a cabinet containing a rare and interesting collection of minerals. The gift has been placed in the room of Miss Alice Stearns, teacher of geology.

Among the numerous species of mineral represented in various stages of production are, iron ore; coal, in different substances, both before and after mining, and gold and silver.

GUILD TAG DAY NETS FUNDS FOR THE BONUS NEARLY $3000 CASH DESPITE CONGRESS

The Lowell Guild tag day Saturday was a genuine success, cash proceeds amounting to $2766.79, as tabulated by the official guild committee handling the tag day plans and receiving the collection funds.

The sum announced will be increased when several non-returned collection boxes are duly received and their contents counted. Officers of the guild believe that the total sum of money actually contributed to the tag day collectors on the public thoroughfares last Saturday will reach $3000, if not more than that.

The guild committee in charge of the campaign had the assistance of three young men connected with Union National bank, who volunteered services for the task of counting the money collected in the city thoroughfares by the host of feminine volunteers. Charles Ellis, Carleton Gardner and Norman Olson composed the trio of bank clerks who gave splendid assistance to the guild's noble cause.

The largest single amount turned in was a check for $100. A ring that "looked like a diamond" was deposited in one coin receptacle, but the "gift" proved to be but a 10-cent electric Parlor house, St. Anne's, was used as a rest room and headquarters for the guild collection campaign.

ONE OF WORST SNOW STORMS IN HISTORY

MISSOULA, Mont., June 9.—Kali-shell was emerging today from one of the worst snow storms in the history of Flathead Valley, in which all records of precipitation for 24 hours were broken. According to a telegram received here 2.21 inches of moisture fell.

PORTUGUESE AVIATORS HOP ON

RANGOON, British India, June 9.—The Portuguese aviators, Lieuts. Paes and Beltrao, who arrived here from Aheah Friday, hopped off today for Bangkok.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Leaving its halls in the hands of undertakers until next December, congress packed up its troubles yesterday and headed back home by way of the national political conventions.

Within 12 hours after the adjournment, which closed the session of the republican members were on their way to Cleveland, while their democratic colleagues were anticipating the thrills in score for them in New York.

Talk of an extra session, started by failure of the deficiency bill, was appreciation for the administration of the bonus law, was quickly very quickly. Reversing some of the opinions voiced in the heat of the closing debate, the leaders of all political groups, together with administrative officials of the government, declared that all necessary expenditures for putting the bonus machinery into operation, could be met somehow and the deficit made up at the opening of next session.

The republican regulars took their leave yesterday declaring, uniformly, that the session had been one of the most beneficial in many years. The democrats who remained behind were not so sure, and the insurgents, with a glance over their shoulder for the La Follette convention to be held in Cleveland July 4, declared the country's final estimate of the accomplishments of the past six months would surprise and disappoint both old parties.

The only object of general agreement was that the session had provided enough campaign issues to go around, and that many questions raised since last December would have resonant echoes in the verdict of next November.

The summer recess will not be one of legislative freedom for all members of congress, because no less than 14 committees will be in session at various times on inquiries ordered by one of both houses. In addition members of the appropriations committee are expected to begin their

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"PLEASE, SUE, CAN YOU TELL ME WHERE I MAY FIND A STOAH?"

Mistah Possum looked in his snuff box, and what did you think? There wasn't one single pinch of snuff left. Not one.

Mistah Possum was a southern gentleman and was just traveling around to see the world a bit. As he said, all the birds came north in the spring so why shouldn't he?

He had taken up his quarters in the button-bell tree and kept bachelor hall.

"Please, sue, can you tell me where I may find a stoah?" he called to Daddy "trackin' over in the maple tree, just as Daddy was going out to buy a morning paper."

"Sure!" called Daddy. "I'm just going there now. Come right along and I'll show you, neighbor."

So Mister Possum swung himself down. Daddy was curious about his neighbor, but was too polite to ask questions. However, Mister Possum, like most southern people, was quite talkative and friendly, and soon Daddy knew all about him.

"Some time you must come south," said the "possum gentleman. And I shall show you all sorts of things. The persimmon trees are wonderful. And the almonds and magnolias smell marvelous."

"How about nuts?" asked Daddy, who didn't care so much about nice smells as about nice nuts.

"Shush! Shush!" said Mister Possum. "Peanuts and pecans! And butternut nuts, too! You'd never guess!"

"All right, sir. I'd like to go south some day on my vacation," said Daddy. "Ma and I may go next year. That is if she doesn't get hay fever."

"Perhaps it's hay fever," suggested Mister Possum.

"Oh, do you suppose so?" exclaimed Mister Possum. "Isn't that nice! It's far cheaper than buying snuff and just as pleasant, isn't it. Achoo! Achoo! I think I'll stay north for a while, sue. It will save me money."

SIX CHILDREN HURLED TO DEATH IN SEWER

ROME, June 9.—A number of children were hurled into a sewer pit 70 feet deep in the Campagna yesterday, when the planks covering the opening collapsed. Outraged in a nearby restaurant, rushed to the rescue, but were overcome by the fumes. The firemen were called and found six dead and two injured.

ANNUAL MUSICAL AT NOTRE DAME

The annual musicale and presentation of honors in the music department at Notre Dame academy, will be held on Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium. The musicale, one of the banner events of the year at the school, will this year be one of the most comprehensive ever given by the school.

The orchestra, composed entirely of the pupils, and including about 20 young ladies, will give several selections from the masters of the day. Together with ensemble numbers, there will be solo renditions including, harp, violin, cornet and cello numbers. Several chorale numbers will also be given as well as solo vocal selections.

Work on framing supply bills for in advance of the opening of legislative session.

ROBERT LINCOLN'S WIFE INJURED

MANCHESTER, Vt., June 9.—Mrs. Mary Lincoln, wife of Robert T. Lincoln, only surviving son of President Abraham Lincoln, is at her summer estate here, suffering from a compound fracture of her leg which resulted from a fall shortly after the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln from their home in Washington.

The attending physician said yesterday that Mrs. Lincoln was resting comfortably and that her condition was improving satisfactorily.

Mrs. Lincoln is 75 years old. It was said that the services of a New York specialist and special nurses had been obtained.

What a Relief for Mother and Dad!

Copyright, Harris & Ewing

Radio is taking the child off mother's lap and putting it to sleep with a bedtime story.

Throughout the country men and women who love children and devote most of their time to entertaining and developing the youngsters are being featured in the programs of the broadcasting stations.

Practically every station has its children's hour some time between 6 and 8 in the evening, when the little boy or girl is tired and cross and sleepy and the journey into dreamland is begun with a short fantastic tale. Of these, some have won special fame among the little ones, through the men and women who have been broadcasting their bedtime stories.

Weekly Entertainers

There is Georgene Faulkner of Chicago, the famous "story lady" of local magazines, chautauques and phonograph records. Now she has won fame as the story lady of radio. From WMAQ, Chicago, Miss Faulkner entertains boys and girls from 7 to 70 every Wednesday evening.

Peggy Albion of WRC, Washington, is another favorite. Her knowledge and love of children comes from her kindergarten training. Besides telling encourages the children to write stories and poetry and the best are read on the air each week.

Children of the south never fail to tune in on WBB, Atlanta, when they know Bonnie Barnhardt is to begin Bonnie's Bedtime Corner with a story, "Man in Moon."

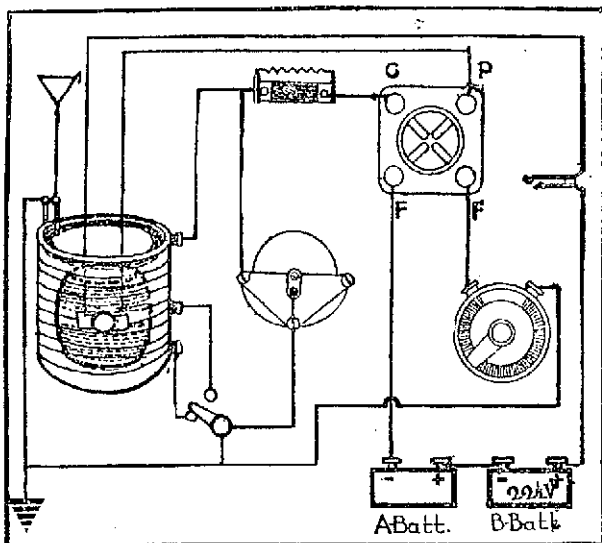

One of the most famous men telling children bedtime stories by radio is the "Man in the Moon" of WOL, Newark, N. J. He is William F. B. McNeary, who has the moon gazing down upon his little listeners and hangs bright stars over the homes of the good children.

The "Dream Daddy" of radio is Harry Ehrhart of WDAR, at Philadelphia. Ehrhart takes his listeners nightly on his dreamland train through storyland and back home.

Uncle Wip of station WIP, Philadelphia, is another popular children's entertainer. He is Chris Graham in real life. He meets the children every Saturday morning at the studio with lollipop for all.

Other noted bedtime story tellers are Louise Seaman, the storybook lady of WJZ, New York; Jerry Wyman, who is Uncle Kaybee at WCAE, Pittsburgh; and Walter Wilson, who is Uncle Bob at KYW, Chicago.

Little Annoyance, More Selectivity Out of Single Circuit Tuner

HOOK-UP DIAGRAM OF SINGLE CIRCUIT TUNER CONVERTED INTO A THREE-CIRCUIT SET

CIRCUIT TUNER CONVERTED

By ISRAEL KLEIN

N.E.A. Service Radio Editor

The simple single circuit tuner need not be discarded just because it lacks selectivity and annoys your neighbor. Both these difficulties can be corrected. First, by converting the tuner into a three-circuit set. Second, by making a slight change in the inductance.

Introduce an untuned antenna inductance and the matter of selectivity is practically eliminated. Tap the middle of your variable capacitor and you furnish yourself with a better range for DX stations.

This has been done with the simple receiver shown here. The set originally was a single circuit tuner, having an ordinary variable capacitor with 30 turns on the stator and about half that number on the rotor.

What was done was to take the aerial off the stator entirely and add a small antenna inductance of 15 turns of the same wire, about No. 22, close to the grid side of the stator, which now becomes the secondary inductance.

Untuned Antenna

This antenna coil is wound on a cylinder slightly smaller in diameter than the stator. It is then slid off, connected between aerial and ground, and placed on the grid side, just within the stator coil. It can be held in place by tape.

The tapper, or rotor, is connected between the two plates and phones, while the stator, now the secondary, is joined to the stator plates of the variable capacitor.

The other ends of the stator, consisting of a tap at the 40th winding and one at the last of 80th winding, are run to two switch taps controlling the selectivity of the circuit.

For short wave lengths and greater selectivity, the center tap will be found beneficial.

Otherwise the circuit is the same as any simple single circuit tuner. To it may be added two stages of audio frequency for listening in on the loud speaker.

For Builders

For those who want to build this set the following parts are suggested: Variable capacitor, with antenna inductance, as described, consisting of 80 turns of No. 22 DCC wire, with a tap on the 40th turn, for the stator, and 40 turns of the same wire for the rotor.

Antenna coil of 15 turns of No. 22 DCC wire.

Variable condenser, with universal control, .00025 mfd capacity.

Grid condenser, .00025 mfd, and leak.

2 megohms.

Tube socket.

Rheostat, 5 ohms.

Switch, lever, two switch taps and two switch stops.

Four binding posts, four lengths bus wire, and panel about 7 by 10 inches.

The B battery for this circuit can be of 25 volts. The tube should be a 2V-200, or a C-300. Dry cell tubes may also be used successfully on this set.

RADIO DIRECTS TRUCK

Station WOC, Davenport, Ia., is sending a radio equipped truck to the Pacific coast. Weather and road conditions will precede the truck on its way, while concerts received through a loud speaker will entertain crowds at the tourist camps.

Pole Fliers Find Rich Mines Flourishing in Far North

BY HAAKON H. HAMMER, Captain Road Amundsen's Associate, Written Expressly for N.E.A. Service and The Sun.

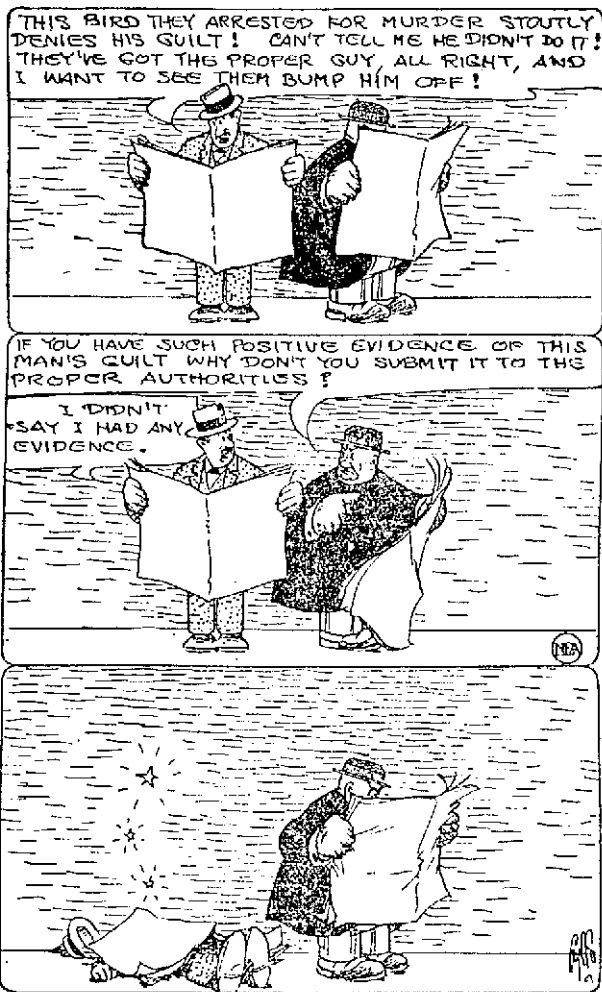

SPITZBERGEN, June 3.—On this arctic island, where the water level, the air, the soil and the mountains, the galleries and the mines are all rich in the minerals of the world from which Captain Road Amundsen, Lieutenant Ralph E. Davidson, U.S.N., and I expect soon to hop off on our Trans-Polar flight, one finds a wonder land.

Five hundred miles farther north than the northernmost Alaska, and only half miles from the North Pole, coal mines flourish.

But they are far different from the mines in other parts of the world, treasure cave. As a rule pits must be dug far down into the ground and the work must be done in terrific heat, moisture and gas fumes. Up here the mines are right in the mountains. The galleries are high above water level, the air is pure and the temperature is 25 degrees F. and gas fumes are unknown quantities. It is extremely beautiful to visit a Spitzbergen coal mine. The low temperature causes frost to gather on the roofs and walls of the mines and when one walks through with a torch, the frost glitters and sparkles like diamonds. One can almost imagine the having been transferred to Aladdin's mines in other parts of the world, treasure cave.

BUILD SAND BOX FOR CHILDREN

By W. C. BACHELOR

The sand pile is without doubt the most popular play facility of childhood. Every boy and girl enjoys the unparalleled opportunity for play or the imagination in the building of castles, houses, lakes, rivers, highways, railroads, farms, villages, and the like, in sand.

Not only does the attraction of the sand keep the child in his own yard, but at the same time engages him in a highly educational activity. The cost of a sand box is so slight that no child need be denied this precious opportunity. The accompanying sketch indicates a practical method of construction. The size, 4 by 6 feet, is large enough for two or even more children.

Material needed:

- Two pieces, 2 inches by 12 inches by 8 feet.
- Two pieces, 2 inches by 12 inches by 4 feet.
- Two pieces, 2 inches by 10 inches by 4 feet.

One pound No. 14 common nails. (Approximate cost, $3.10.)

One load (1/2 yard) of clean sand. (Approximate cost, $3.)

The shelf provides a seat as well as a "counter" on which to turn out shovels and from which to "sell" cakes, pies, etc.

A dozen blocks the size of bricks (8 inches long), cut from a 2 by 4-inch board, are a valuable addition, being useful for walls and roofs of buildings, fences, bridges, etc. Small garden tools, or a large spoon, should be a part of the equipment. Dampen the sand occasionally and keep bottles or other articles of glass out of the box.

In choosing the location for the sand box seek for any natural shade. Too, a canvas canopy can be built over the box at a small additional expense. An old army "gun" tent is just the right size for a shelter of the kind.

KATO TO FORM NEW CABINET

Accepts Command of Prince
Regent Hirohito to Form
Japanese Ministry

Will Succeed That of Former
Premier Kiyoura—Will Be
Coalition Affair

TOKIO, June 9.—(By the Associated Press) Viscount Kato tonight accepted the command of Prince Regent Hirohito to form a new cabinet, asking however, that he be given a few days. His ministry will succeed that of former Premier Kiyoura, and will be a coalition affair, according to the verbiage of the press.

The Prince Regent previously had refused to accept the resignation of the Kiyoura government, deferred such acceptance until the selection of a successor in accordance with Japanese tradition.

An imperial messenger consulted with Prince Saloni, the elder statesman, yesterday. Viscount Kato at one time served under Prince Saloni, as a cabinet member, and was considered as a foregone conclusion, that Saloni's dictum would assure selection of Kato as the new premier.

The new cabinet leader is a member of the Japanese nobility. He has had a long and successful career in government affairs. A graduate of the law college of the Imperial Tokyo university in 1881, he served in the foreign office, was transferred to the finance office and eventually became director of the banking bureau and taxation bureau. Later he returned to the foreign office. From 1896 to 1899 he represented Japan in England. In 1900 and 1901, he was minister of foreign affairs, and again in 1912 and 1913 he held the same post. He has sat twice in the lower house and served in two previous cabinets.

STATE READY FOR MURDER TRIAL

Attorney Crowe Says Notes
Cling State's "Perfect
Hanging Case"

Will Also Serve in Court to Prove Both Leopold and
Loeb Sane, He Says

CHICAGO, June 9.—Notes taken by Richard Loeb, while Nathan Leopold's confession of the murder of Robert Franks was being read to him, and notes by Leopold, while Loeb's confession was being read, in turn are being guarded jealously by Robert H. Crowe, state's attorney. It being his contention that the notes, as well as attaching the state's "perfect hanging case" against the boys, will serve in a court to prove them both sane.

The notes were made, it was revealed, when Mr. Crowe directed that the confession of each of the young millionaires' sons be read to the other, and each objected to certain incriminating or inaccurate statements. Each was given a pad of paper, and Loeb, in his precise manner, noted numbered exceptions to Leopold's confession as read by the state's attorney who had taken it down, while Leopold noted fragmentary exceptions closely grouped in the corner of a sheet of paper.

Mr. Crowe announced last night that the state was ready for trial. The boys will be arraigned Wednesday and he will try to have the trial date set for July 15, the soonest possible under criminal court procedure.

MARSAL FORMS NEW FRENCH CABINET

PARIS, June 9.—(By the Associated Press) The "Ministry of a message" is one of the names given to the cabinet formed by M. Francois-Marsal, inasmuch as it was constituted primarily to lay before parliament, President Millerand's message explaining the political situation as he sees it and allowing the new majority of the left to go on record against him if it chooses, in which case he will resign.

Another appellation for the admittedly stop-gap administration is the "Ministry of a day." However, if the anticipated program proves correct, the day will be considerably over 24 hours, for if and when M. Millerand resigns, he will ask M. Francois-Marsal to carry on until a new premier is appointed by the new president, and it is the present premier who will accompany the chief executive to Versailles to Paris after the election, in accordance with tradition.

Francois-Marsal wins praise from the newspapers, which are mostly opposed to the new majority in the chamber, for his courage in accepting office under the circumstances.

Mr. Flynn has written the former councilor officially advising him of his election and requesting him to appear and qualify at his convenience.

Mayor Donovan this morning received a letter from Sam Lewis of Ontario, Canada, asking aid in locating Mrs. Albert Sturges, who left England seven years ago and is believed to have settled in this city. Aside from knowing that she had a son, Albert Sturges, who participated in the World war with the American army, the writer has little definite knowledge that would be of much help in locating the woman.

William F. Thornton, chief schools attendance officer, and Henry Williams, business agent for the school department, attended the recent annual conference of the Massachusetts Attendance Officers' association. The get-together was held at the Worcester County Training school at Oakdale.

Five more temporary clerks were added to the staff of the city treasurer's office today, to assist in the work of making out poll tax bills. The new clerks are the Misses Mary Muldoon, Alice V. Champagne, Susie M. Lyons, Elizabeth F. Hennessy and Sarah Markham.

O'HEARN CANDIDATE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

BOSTON, June 9. Senator William A. O'Hearn of North Adams, democratic floor leader in the upper branch of the legislature, has announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination of lieutenant governor. Senator O'Hearn says he has been assured of support from many of the prominent democratic leaders of the state.

Senator O'Hearn served in the house in 1911 and 1912 and was clerk of the district court in North Adams for five years from 1914 and was elected to the senate in 1922.

Since becoming a member of the senate he has served on the committees on judiciary bills in third reading and on revenue and has taken a leading part in the debates on important legislation.

In making his announcement, Senator O'Hearn says, "I shall be a candidate for the democratic nomination for lieutenant governor at the primaries in September.

"I believe our system of direct primaries the choice of candidates rests exclusively with the voters within their respective parties. I realize that a large majority of the votes cast in a democratic primary are within a radius of 50 miles of Boston. Because of this, the far western part of the state, I did not decide to enter the contest until I had assurances that my candidacy would be looked upon with favor in the eastern part of the state.

"I believe that a public office is a public trust and not private property. That the citizen is the source of all governmental authority; that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed and that all citizens, insofar as is consistent with good order, should be left free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and commerce.

"If my record on Beacon Hill, both as a member of the house of representatives and as the democratic leader in the state senate, for old-fashioned Americanism and for equal rights for all and equal privileges for none is endorsed by the democratic voters of the state, I did not decide to enter the contest until I had assurances that my candidacy would be looked upon with favor in the eastern part of the state.

COTTON DEPRESSION IS WORLD-WIDE

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The depression in the cotton manufacturing industry is found by the tariff commission to be practically world-wide. In scope, and that body sees no indications for immediate improvement. The commission's views were embodied in a report to a senate resolution by Sen. David I. Walsh of Maine, passed by the senate today.

Referring to that phase of the resolution concerning reasons for importation into the United States of cotton fabrics the commission explained that a portion of the population which could afford finer clothes was accustomed to turning to England for cotton goods to supply their requirements.

The trade-marks and reputations of certain of the products provided their selling bases, and the commission gave it as its opinion that consumers of the products of the cotton industry were sold the world over.

Regarding the inquiry on import duties, the commission replied it felt unwarranted in the absence of verification of the facts in making recommendations for reduction of the tariff rates, it declined to venture an opinion whether changes in the tariff duties would affect the importations.

Discussing the low volume of world sales of cotton products, the commission said there had been great reductions in the purchasing power of consumers in the several cotton-using nations and this had curtailed sales from the looms and factories of the United States as well as of foreign manufacturers.

SENIORS IN CHILDREN'S GARB AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Senior social, always a colorful affair at the Lowell high school, was held in Colburn hall from 2 to 5 o'clock this afternoon. The seniors, for once dressed in children's garb, the title of senior, the girls wearing hair bows, and some having their hair plaited prettily, and the boys wearing knickerbocker suits, early colored socks, and Buster Brown collars and ties, made a striking picture. Under the chairmanship of Miss Alma Elliott, a pleasant afternoon was spent. General dancing, the feature of the entertainment, was much enjoyed and refreshments were served during intermission.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place Saturday evening when Miss Mary Jaros and Mr. Frank Bonczar were united in marriage at the rectory of the Polish National Catholic church by Rev. J. P. Lesniak, pastor. Miss Catherine Bonczar and Miss Olga Szymanska attended the bride while Messrs. Stanislaw Bonczar and Frank Kosowicz acted as men of honor. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin with a train. She carried a shower of white and pink roses and lilies of the valley. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the bride's party at the home of the bride's parents in First street. Following an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Bonczar will make their home at 58 First street.

NEGLIGENCE FOUND IN INQUEST REPORT

The inquest report in connection with the death of John J. Murphy, aged 3 years, of 19 Fairfax street, fatally injured by an automobile operated by George H. Quirkback of the same address on May 21, was delivered to Judge Enright in district court this morning. Negligence is found in this report, but not gross nor sufficient enough to warrant a finding of criminal negligence.

The defendant was in court this morning with his attorney, Joseph P. Donahue, and after a consultation with Judge Enright concerning the possibility of a further hearing in this case, asked for a continuance to June 15, which was granted.

The accident resulting in the death of the Murphy boy occurred on the morning of May 21 in a yard occupied jointly by the Murphy and Quirkback families. According to the police report, the victim was playing about the yard on a "kiddie-car" and rode onto the garage driveway just as the defendant backed his machine from the garage. The boy received injuries to the head and died very soon after the accident.

JAPANESE TO PROBE RECENT DEMONSTRATION

TOKIO, June 9.—(By the Associated Press) "Thorough investigation will be made of the demonstration staged at a dance in the imperial hotel Saturday evening by a group of political refugees," was said at the Japanese foreign office today.

Until such investigation is made, however, it is pointed out, no official action can be taken punishing the offenders. Officials expressed regret at the outbreak of vandalism which created pandemonium among the crowd of foreigners attending the dance and caused two American women to faint. They emphasized, however, that the demonstration was not aimed directly against Americans but against Japanese whom the "patriots" considered were indulging in frivolous amusement with foreigners at a time when the invaders believed that the country had been insulted.

Police have not made any arrests in connection with the affair. They indicate that none is likely to be made since they were of the opinion that the demonstrators did not break the law or harm any one.

As an outgrowth of the demonstration the imperial hotel management has announced that no more public dances will be held there.

The Russians entered the ball room residence in the far western part of the hotel and the floor branched outwards, and made several profane and bitter anti-American speeches.

NAME OF CHURCH IS CHANGED TO ST. RITA

Rev. John J. Powers, pastor of St. Columba's church, announced yesterday that hereafter the parish and church over which he presides will be named after St. Rita, in commemoration of the many favors that have been granted in her name.

Shortly after Fr. Powers assumed the pastorate of St. Columba's church, Drunkenness and motor vehicle law violation cases made up the greater part of this morning's docket in police court and were rapidly disposed of by Judge Enright.

MAKE UP DOCKET

James P. Regan, charged with being drunk on the South common on Saturday, was sentenced to the house of correction for a month and sentence suspended for six months. In connection with this case, Judge Enright reiterated his statement of a few days ago that he would keep the common clear of drunks even if he had to impose direct sentences.

Michael Murray was found guilty of drunkenness and fined $10. He was given a month to pay the fine.

Peter J. Blanchard, drunk, was called and ordered defaulted when he failed to appear. Eugene Piche, drunk, was placed on file. A suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction was revoked in the case of Edward P. Martel, charged with drunkenness, and he was ordered committed to the state farm on a charge of drunkenness.

Whiter and Stella Karkota were arraigned on drunkenness charges and found guilty. Suspended sentences to the state farm were imposed in each case.

Charles Mastromariti pleaded guilty to charges of driving an automobile without a license and without registration. He was fined $10 on the first count and the second was filed.

A plea of not guilty was entered in the case of Charles C. Gabrielle, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence and a continuance was granted to June 12.

William James appeared in answer to a charge of driving an automobile without a license. He was arrested yesterday in Tewksbury by Chief Anthony Kelly of that town after his machine had been in collision with a parked machine. Judge Enright continued the case to Saturday for civil settlement.

Omer Hebert, Raymond St. Jean, Albert Murray, George A. Paradis, Henry Massey and Victor Pepin were fined $10 each on complaints charging them with being present where gambling implements were found. The case was heard last week and continued today for disposal.

Charles Ladonowicz was called on a charge of assault and battery and through his attorney asked for a continuance. This was granted to next Saturday with the understanding that no further continuance will be given.

Joseph H. McKenna, charged with non-support of an illegitimate child, asked for a defense to be in court this morning and suspension of a sentence of five months in the house of correction was revoked.

TO STOP RIDING OF BICYCLES ON COMMONS

The police drive against bicycle riding on the city commons, penalties for which are provided by city ordinance, received the support and commendation of Judge Enright in district court this morning when the first offender arrested, Edmund Polaris, was fined $20, the maximum penalty provided in the ordinance.

In imposing this fine, Judge Enright said it was not right that persons who seek rest and pleasure on the city commons should be endangered by bicyclists and mentioned an accident which occurred when the South common about two weeks ago in which a boy received injuries which were at least partly responsible for his death in a local hospital a week after the accident.

General manager of the gas company under date of Feb. 27, 1924, the following statement was made: "The schedule of rates for gas consumption of five cents per one thousand cubic feet." This statement is evidently not borne out by the facts as revealed in the revised rates. True, there is a reduction to a number of gas consumers; how extensive is not clearly indicated, but on the other hand it is also evident that there is an advance in rates to other classes of consumers. Therefore, it cannot be argued that the public in general have benefited by these revised rates.

"Charging one class of consumer more than formerly for gas consumed and another class of consumers less, does not seem an equitable and lower rate to the public, especially so when the rates are so difficult of analysis and interpretation."

"In fact it can be argued that the reduction granted to certain classes of consumers is being offset and paid for by consumers who are obliged to pay increased rates and also permits a reasonable doubt to exist in the public mind that the gas company is perhaps obtaining a larger revenue than formerly under the revised rates."

"If there is to be a reduction in gas rates the entire public should secure the benefit. There should be no distinction made."

"In order to justify the assurance of the Gas company contained in their letter of Feb. 27th to this office the reduction of five cents per 1000 cubic feet should apply to all gas consumers. If this is done then there can be no doubt existing in the public mind that a home-side reduction has really been offered the public and will put an end to further arguments in relation to gas rates and as to how such rates are affecting the public."

"I will approve such a resolution as herewith outlined if made by the city council to the board of public utilities."

The letter of the mayor follows: "After a careful analysis of the evidence presented at the hearing before the public utilities commission May 25, in relation to the present revised schedule of rates for gas charged in this city, I am of the following opinion: "That the city council should by resolution request the public utilities commission for a flat reduction of five cents per one thousand cubic feet to all consumers regardless of the amount of gas consumed."

218 Licenses Suspended or
Revoked for Violations of
Motor Vehicle Laws

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, June 9.—Sixty-six persons were convicted in this state last week on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and three of them were sent to jail.

Seven of the convicted persons were charged with second offenses, for which the law clearly provides that a jail sentence shall be mandatory; yet in two cases the courts imposed fines, which were appealed; in one case a jail sentence was imposed and suspended; and in the remaining four cases of second offenders an appeal was taken in each case.

The three men who went to jail were first offenders.

In addition to the 66 convicted of operating while under the influence of liquor, there eleven convictions on charges of operating recklessly, or so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public; five were fined, three were fined, one was given a suspended jail sentence, one was fined and appealed, and one was continued for sentence.

During the week there were thirteen fatalities, ten adults and three children, killing victims in motor car accidents.

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin suspended or revoked 218 licenses, this being a reduction of 60 from the previous week. Of these, 53 were on liquor charges; 14 for reckless operation, or such as to endanger the public; four for going away after an accident without giving name and address; 32 for improper operation; 28 for improper lights; and others for various causes, including 46 cases in which the registrar gave as his reason that he considered the licensee to be an improper person to be allowed to operate.

SUDDEN DEATH OF FREDERICK FANNING AYER

Slayer of Rev. Michael C. Gilbride
Indicted for First Degree
Murder by Grand Jury

John J. King, Jr., of New Boston Road, Dracut, confessed slayer of Rev. Michael C. Gilbride, former pastor of St. Mary's church, Collinsville, was indicted for first degree murder by a special grand jury sitting in East Cambridge this morning. A second indictment charged him with assault on Captain David Pelrie of the Lowell police department, with intent to kill. A speedy trial is expected.

This morning's special sitting of the grand jury was ordered about an hour after the murder by District Attorney Arthur K. Reading. The spring session of the grand jury had adjourned some time ago, but the district attorney felt the seriousness of the offense and the tragic circumstances surrounding it, warranted an immediate resitting.

Mayor Requests Council to Pass Resolution Which Would Give Flat Decrease Regardless of Amount Consumed, Instead of Plan Now in Effect

Mayor Donovan today wrote a letter to the special committee of city councilors probing the gas rates of Lowell, recommending to the committee that it advise the council to go on record as favoring a reduction of five cents per 1000 cubic feet in gas rates. This, the mayor states, is to be preferred to the new rate of the company which increases the gas bills of some consumers and lowers those of others. The mayor states that should the city council concur with his suggestion, he would be pleased to approve a resolution to be forwarded the state department of public utilities. Councilor David Dickson is chairman of the gas probe committee which meets tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the council committee room. The other members are Councilor Eugene A. Fitzgerald and Councilor Maurice

in West and South

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Express rates throughout the country were ordered readjusted today by the interstate commerce commission, which authorized general increases in the eastern zone, approximately 3 per cent, and slight reductions in the west and the south.

The decision was the result of a general investigation by the commission in which representatives of state railroad commissions participated. Wide differences in rates between the

SAY LOWELL TRUCK WAS IN BIG LIQUOR RAID

In one of the largest liquor seizures made in this state recently and which occurred Saturday evening in Lynn, an automobile truck, which it is alleged is owned by a Lowell man, and its contents, about 1000 gallons of alcohol, were seized.

Following the seizure, Capt. George B. Palmer of the local liquor squad was notified and interviewed the owner of the truck, who disclaimed all knowledge of the purpose the truck was being used for and claimed

Superintendent and Manager
of General Baking Co. at
Providence Robbed

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 8.—Three masked men armed with rifles and sawed-off shotguns held up and robbed Harold H. Piper, and Philip Devaney, plant superintendent and sales manager, respectively, of the General Baking Co. of a money bag containing cash and checks amounting to $11,491.37 here this morning.

The robbery, a daring one, took place in the residential section of the city, the bandits using a high-powered automobile bearing a Massachusetts registration formerly held by a Stoneham, Mass., man. They forced the automobile used by the baking company officials to the sidewalk, while they removed the money bag from the car.

They made off in the direction of Taunton, Mass., being followed for a short distance by the men they had robbed.

LEOPOLD AND LOEB TO PLEAD NOT GUILTY

CHICAGO, June 8.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, heirs to millions, who have confessed the kidnapping for ransom and murder of Robert Franka, school boy, will plead not guilty.

This statement came today from Clarence Darrow, of the defense counsel, while State Attorney Robert E. Crowe, was completing what his aids call "the perfect hanging case."

Dr. Evans, Imperial Wizard, Issues Virtual Ultimatum to President and Followers

Calls for Nomination of Sen. Watson of Indiana for Vice President

CLEVELAND, June 8.—The declaration made here today by H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, upon his arrival here from Atlanta that Sen. James B. Watson of Indiana is the Klan's candidate for vice president, was interpreted as a virtual ultimatum to the convention.

Mr. Evans made known the Klan's position in this statement: "All of our boys throughout the nation will understand only one thing and that is Senator James B. Watson for vice president—flat."

"We will deny any responsibility for the defeat of the republican party at the polls in November, if Watson is not selected for vice president on the ground that he is the most available candidate to carry the middle western states, which are necessary for the election of Coolidge."

Senator Watson of Indiana, immediately repudiated the statement issued by the Imperial Wizard.

"I don't belong to the Ku Klux Klan," Mr. Watson said. "If they have issued a statement naming me, they

FOR STATE TREASURER
Dr. Otis Allen, Lowell Dentist Announces Candidacy for State Office

Dr. Otis Allen, local dentist, today announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for state treasurer.

Dr. Allen has been active in local political circles for many years and served on the school committee and board of aldermen in the early nineteen hundreds.

He is a product of Lowell, a graduate of the local high school, and also of the Boston Dental school. His father was Major Thomas H. Allen, who served with the Old Sixth Massachusetts regiment in the Civil war, and his grandfather was Otis H. Allen, who founded the lumber company by that name. He is also a nephew of Hon. Charles H. Allen, former governor of Iowa (Iowa, assistant secretary of the navy during the Spanish war, one of the leading republicans of the country.

While he has not taken out papers as yet for this office, Dr. Allen said he would do so within a few days.

Insurgents Want Daugherty and Fall Condemned and Barred From Office

Would Have President Summon Congress Into Extraordinary Session July 7

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 8.—Republican insurgents acting through the Wisconsin delegation, will ask the republican national convention formally to condemn the official acts of Harry M. Daugherty, as attorney general and Albert B. Fall, as secretary of the interior.

This is disclosed in an official copy of the insurgent platform made public today by Robert M. La Follette, Jr., of the Wisconsin senator, in the name of the Wisconsin delegation. The statement says further that Daugherty and Fall "be forever barred from holding any position of honor or trust within the gift either of the republican party or any future republican administration."

The insurgents also would have President Coolidge summon congress into extraordinary session on Monday, July 7, 1924, for consideration of emergency legislation for relief of agriculture, to provide funds for payment

Speaker Gillett Named as Mass. Member of Resolution Committee

Mass. Delegates Also Choose Butler as Their National Committee Man

CLEVELAND, June 8.—Frederick H. Gillett, speaker of the house of representatives, was today named as the Massachusetts member of the resolution committee, replacing Senator Lodge, who has held that honor for many years.

The Massachusetts delegation at their caucus also chose William M. Butler, pre-convention campaign manager for President Coolidge, as their national committeeman. Governor Cox was selected to act as chairman of the delegation in convention.

Senator Lodge had nothing to say either before or after the caucus was held. He was given a cheer when he entered the caucus room.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—Senator Richard E. Ernst of Kentucky has been chosen as the chairman of the committee on rules of the convention, it was announced today by William M. Butler, pre-convention campaign manager for President Coolidge.

Lowden Declination of Boom for Vice Presidency Causes Confusion

Borah, Dawes, Hoover, Burton and Others Mentioned for Second Place

CLEVELAND, June 8.—(By the Associated Press) Former Governor Lowden's declination of his boom for the republican vice presidential nomination had served today to spread the limelight more evenly over the growing field of prospects.

With practically the last of the arrivals of the convention tomorrow, the milling and maneuvering took on larger proportions and centered with new zest about the selection of a vice presidential nominee, although sight was not lost of the meeting to begin the real work of platform building. Convention leaders who had helped in driving the Lowden candidacy into what was generally regarded as a commanding position, recognized that his announcement that he would not accept the nomination, coming in the midst of an attack on him from opposing Illinois factions, had reduced the likelihood

A police cordon has been thrown Patrick J. Leavitt, surrounded a lodge about a house numbered 103 High Street in Brookings street where it street, which is occupied by the wife was known Klepacz has friends living, and sister-in-law of Stanley Klepacz, a thorough search of the premises was former resident of this city who is he made and several occupants were questioned in connection with the brutal murder in the New Hampshire city last night of Mrs. Katherine Krueczek at her home, 18 Main street, as it is believed, he will sooner or later attempt to visit his wife and secure money.

Throughout the Polish districts of the city, the regular police officers are also keeping a close watch, as the wanted man is known to have many friends in this city to whom he might go for financial assistance.

Notification of the murder was received in this city last evening and the Lowell police immediately started an investigation of the various districts in the city in which Klepacz might attempt to hide or borrow money. At 11 o'clock this morning, a police detail headed by Sergeant James J. Kennedy and Frank L. Mahoney, and consisting of officers Daniel M. Lynch, Timothy G. Mahoney, Owen S. Conway and

1924 CONVENTION

Massachusetts members of the Catholic Order of Foresters from every section of the state, including Lowell, rallied today at Southbridge for the annual state convention of the organization, which opens this evening in Edwards hall and continues until Wednesday evening.

Lowell will be well represented at the convention. The official delegates who left today for Southbridge, accompanied by members of local O.F.F., unaffiliated in an executive way, but all eager to attend the annual convention, were as follows:

Arthur L. Lavoie, treasurer, Court St. Paul, No. 1420, O.F.F. Francis X. Rivet, chief forester, Franklin American Foresters (Union Samuel De Champlain, No. 7).

Fifty new members will be initiated into Court St. George, 523, at which the officers and delegates will be present.

The opening session will bring ten state officers and 25 delegates to the rally, that is expected to make a history for the state Catholic Order of Foresters.

Tomorrow, at 9 a. m., a solemn high mass will be offered in Notre Dame church, the pastor, Rev. L. O. Triguera, to be the celebrant; Rev. N. J. Dupuis, deacon, and Rev. William Leclair, sub-deacon. Rev. Adolph P. Rabot of Lowell will officiate.

Many Local Organizations Flourished Because of His Marked Generosity

Frederick Fanning Ayer, a native of Lowell, renowned philanthropist and benefactor extraordinary, died suddenly in the Hotel Tabor, Boston, at 1:30 o'clock this morning, following an attack of heart trouble. He had been ill but a short time, having begun treatment a few days ago for neuritis and lumbago. At 2:30 o'clock this morning, his heart became affected and he died an hour later, despite the expert medical attendance of two doctors and two nurses.

Frederick Fanning Ayer was born in Lowell 74 years ago, the son of James C. Ayer, founder of the J. C. Ayer Co., and Josephine Mellen Southwick. The date of his birth was Sept. 12, 1851.

Mr. Ayer had not been a resident of Lowell for many years. He maintained offices in New York and kept in touch with local affairs through representatives who were in and out of the city periodically. Recently the James C. Ayer estate was centered in an office in the Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank building.

Following elementary and college education, Mr. Ayer studied law and was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1875. Since his father's death in 1875, he personally managed the great properties of the Ayer estate.

Frederick Fanning Ayer's many gifts added to the gratitude which will always bind his name to the city of his birth. In spirit, and in fact his many benefactions have endeared him to the entire citizenship of Lowell and have given him a claim on our remembrance that wealth or success could never of itself bestow. His early enterprise and genius for organization carried the name of Lowell throughout the world, but he will be remembered by his many gifts to public and private institutions.

Among his beneficiaries were the following:

The Lowell General hospital, $700,000; the Young Women's Christian association, $55,000 for remodeling purposes; the Old Ladies' Home, $50,000 to make possible the addition of eight more rooms; the Ayer Home, $170,000; the Young Men's Christian association, $70,000; the Lowell Humane society, $10,000. Many other institutions have been the recipients of large donations.

About a year ago, Mr. Ayer was responsible for the creation of a new Victory statue in Maine, the public square to replace the original one, the gift of A. C. Ayer, which had been destroyed.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT PROTESTANT CHURCHES

Protestant churches of Lowell generally observed "Children's Day," yesterday, following customary programs which included the traditional presentation of flowering plants to members of church Sunday schools, pageants delineating the religious lessons of the day and special sermons by pastors.

Some of the churches held the children's special services in the morning.

Carol-singing, recitations and appropriate musical selections being programmed. The old-time custom of presenting each child in the various church schools with a flowering plant was carried out in nearly all edifices, the ceremony proving to be striking in its religious meaning.

The children's day program at the First Presbyterian church was most elaborate and was given in the morning. Songs and recitations were featured and graduation exercises of the church school department followed.

At Westminster Presbyterian church, children were baptized at the morning services. In the early evening, young people of the church presented a pageant, "Gates of the Bible," congregations were large at both services. Rev. Wallace S. Sampson, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, preached to the children in the morning. The choir sang special numbers. At night, the children's program included recitations and songs, with exercises by the primary and beginners' departments. A pageant similar to that presented in Westminster church, was also presented by the junior and senior departments.

At First Baptist church, morning exercises were elaborate, with special music featured. Plants were distributed in the usual way. At Worthen Street Baptist church, special exercises were held in the morning. At Fifth Street Baptist church, Rev. C. D. Piper, the pastor, delivered a special sermon, "The Arrows of Children," in the morning. An appropriate pageant, "Creation's Praiseful Jubilee," was the evening's feature, with members of church school and choir participating.

Highland Congregational church programs for the day were most attractive. All departments of the Sunday school participated, with the assistance of the church choir. At Pawtucket Congregational church, exercises were similar, with the addition of baptismal service and distribution of plants.

Rev. Thomas T. Johnston preached in Centralville M. E. church in the morning, "The Children's Hour" being the pastor's topic. The annual children's day exercises were conducted in the evening. Rev. E. E. Jackson preached a special sermon, "The Glory of Childhood," at Highland Union M. E. church, in the morning. Children's day at First Universalist church was featured by a sermon to the children in the morning, delivered by the pastor, Rev. Harold W. Haynes, whose topic was "Making Good Americans." At Grace Universalist church, there were readings, songs and exercises of attractiveness. The Sunday school members were assisted by the choir. Special services were also held at Church of the Nazarene and First Evangelical church, both being well attended, as was the rule at every Protestant church conducting "Children's Day" exercises yesterday morning and evening.

ARE GRADUATED FROM LESLEY NORMAL SCHOOL

Six local young women received diplomas from the Lesley Normal School, Cambridge, on Saturday. They are: Misses Dorothy Mountford, Marion Howard, Catherine Burns, Katherine Thomas, Ethel Guilfooy and Frances Graves.

Miss Dorothy Mountford, the only local young woman to receive a diploma in domestic science, is a graduate of the Lowell high school. Previous to entering Lesley, Miss Mountford attended Jackson college for Women and Tufts college.

Miss Mountford has received an exceptionally high average during the year and has received commendation from her teachers in the numerous departments. She has also been socially prominent during her course at the school, having taken part in the cabaret at the school during the winter. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Mountford of 121 Moore street.

LIQUOR FINES IN DISTRICT COURT $150

Fines totalling $150 were collected within a few moments in police court this morning in cases involving illegal keeping of beer.

Paul Silva, Charles Barker and Nazario Tetrault pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and were each fined $50. Judge Knight in imposing the sentence, said he did not believe that beer does as much physical damage to the man who drinks it as does "moonshine" and owing to this belief, made the fine only half of the usual amount for a first offence on this charge.

of soldiers' bonus for consideration of the Howell-Barkley bill for the settlement of disputes between employers and employees; for amendment of the making section of the transportation act; looking toward the reduction of "extortionate railroad rates" and for reclamation relief legislation extending the time of payment to farmers on government reclamation projects.

It is further stated that the convention system of nominating presidential and vice presidential candidates "has failed" and the senate and house members should be urged to "initiate and support such constitutional amendment and legislation as may be necessary to provide for direct nomination and election by the people of the United States of candidates for president and vice president."

The convention will be asked by the insurgents to extend its congratulations to 31 republican senators and 211 republican representatives for display of courage and independence in "voting for the tax bill enacted into law by both houses of congress and signed by the president, as a substitute for the Mellon plan."

In this connection, request is made for legislation to give "full and complete publicity on tax returns" and for a "policy to encourage people that neither the Mellon plan nor any other tax bill providing for unwarranted reductions in surtaxes of multi-millionaires and profit-seeking corporations shall receive the support of the republican party in any future session of congress."

Another plank proposed by the Wisconsin delegation in its statement provides that neither the republican congressional nor senatorial campaign committee in the presidential and congressional campaigns of 1924, "shall accept any contribution in any amount, other than a contribution by individual or whatsoever, from any individual or from any individual connected in any way with any corporation, subject to presentation as a trust or monopoly or other illegal combination or having any interest in oil, coal, timber or the natural resources found on the public domain."

Republican regulars assembled in conference from time to time during the day with Charles B. Warren of Detroit, selected for the chairmanship of the resolutions committee. Among those closely associated for the greater time with Mr. Warren were William K. Ware, Pennsylvania and Ogden Miller of New York both of whom will represent their delegations on the resolutions committee.

Mr. Ware and Mr. Miller who were in consultation with Pres. Coolidge at the White House just before they left the national capital for Cleveland are known to be informed as to the president's desires on platform planks, particularly that dealing with the world court issue.

In this connection Mr. Warren said today he had been strengthened in the belief, as a result of the conversations he had had on the court plank, that the issue could be adjusted in a way that would permit the convention to endorse the court idea and, at the same time, bring the party and the president's policy into accord.

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE COMMENCEMENT

ORONO, Me., June 8.—The tremendous material developments of the last 50 years have not been accompanied by a corresponding development of the intellectual powers with regard to the higher stages of life, said Dr. Francis C. Benedict in an address at the University of Maine commencement today. Dr. Benedict, director of the nutrition laboratory of the Carnegie Institution at Washington, is in the faculty here.

"Facing that teachers in the public schools adopt the spirit of modern research he said: 'The teacher has the possibilities for not only instilling the spirit of research into the students, but likewise of actually accomplishing research. To this end, the teacher must be a man of high intellect, and in his country it is not necessary to take part in brilliant public functions that have to do with the organization and regeneration of empires. The naturalist may also perform patriotic functions in the silence of his laboratory. 'All of our research workers are primarily impelled by a feeling and desire to benefit the world. There is a spirit of service which is a service to both God and man. The infusion of the research spirit throughout our entire educational system cannot, in my judgment, make except for a wider visioned, better and more tolerant nation.'"

LOWELL POLICE SENT TO DOVER, N. H.

A detail of eleven Lowell policemen, under command of Sgt. Michael Winn, left this city for Dover, N. H., at 1 o'clock this morning to assist the police of the New Hampshire city should any trouble arise between the American Federation of Labor unionists, who returned to work today after being on strike for a long period, and the Industrial Workers of the World members, who opposed this action.

The Dover city marshal feared a clash between the opposing labor group and yesterday requested Sgt. Thomas H. Atkinson to send as many men as could be spared to assist his officers in keeping the peace. The detail, in addition to Sgt. Winn, consists of the following: Daniel M. Lynch, William P. Nelson, Arthur Christie, Patrick E. Leavitt, Francis E. Ready, Owen S. Conway, Francis M. O'Donnell, James E. Brosnan, William P. Liston and John J. Leahy.

Lowell Truck in Liquor Raid

he loaned the truck to a friend Saturday.

The sensational seizure was made by 12 men officers late Saturday evening. A truck was stopped on a main thoroughfare by a Lynn policeman and after investigation disclosed its load consisted of alcohol. The driver, was placed under arrest. Two other trucks, which it is alleged were part of a single conveyance, managed to escape detection at this time but drive drivers apparently feared to drive them through the city and put them in a garage, which it is claimed is owned by James McPherson. A neighbor of the mayor's, seeing the trucks placed in his garage and knowing he was out of town, notified the police. A detail of officers investigated and seized the trucks, one of which it is alleged, is owned by a Lowell party.

Capt. Palmer said Monday morning that no arrests are expected in this city in connection with the seizure.

Drugs and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Richard Peters, pastor of the Highland Congregational church. There were many musical floral tributes. The bearers were Harry C. Littlefield, Walter M. Bennett, Arthur C. Reed, Fred Garland and William C. Clark. Burial took place in the family lot in the Tewksbury cemetery, where the communal graves were read by Rev. Mr. Peters. The Rev. and Mrs. Bernard morning that no arrests are expected in this city in connection with the seizure.

ANNOUNCES DISCOVERY OF CURE FOR CANCER

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—The North American says today in an article withheld from publication for 15 months "the cause of cancer has been discovered; also a treatment for it, which, though still in experimental stage, 'is producing remarkable results.'"

The discoverer is Dr. T. J. Glover, a native of Toronto, Can., who, the article will say, has established scientifically that the disease is due to a micro-organism and who has isolated the germ and proved by the "Koch" method that it is the cause of the disease. Dr. Glover has conducted his research work in New York city for four years.

The antitoxin serum developed by Dr. Glover, the article will say, apparently is effective in the treatment of carcinoma, the commonest and most destructive form of cancer. Continuing, the North American will say:

"Dr. Glover first succeeded in inoculating animals with the germ he had isolated in certified specimens of cancer from human beings, and with it reproduced the disease in monkeys and all immune animals. Then, through injection of the serum, he cured or modified its course, and later immunized scores of such animals against infection."

"Within the last two years this serum has been tested on more than 200 cases of cancer, confirmed by pathological, X-ray and clinical studies, and in every stage of development from incipient to hopelessness. Nearly 100 of these have been treated in the National Stomach hospital in Philadelphia, where the most complete tests have been made, and the largest number of patients observed."

"In a majority of these cases (favorable results have been secured and in some instances the subjects have been discharged as symptom-free, a condition the layman would call cured."

"This discovery of the cancer germ leads logically to the hope that a method soon may be found for determining the presence of the micro-organism in the blood, thus making possible the detection of the disease in its incipient stage and its prevention. Dr. Glover already has made significant experiments along this line, with decidedly encouraging results."

Began Research Work Early

"His first health research work in this field soon after being graduated from the medical school of the University of Toronto in 1911, and was continued until he came to New York. There one of his test cases attracted the attention of a wealthy business man, who for three years has anonymously financed his laboratory work and the production of the serum."

"The process of obtaining this serum is similar to that followed in the case of diphtheria antitoxin, in that the horse is the medium. It has been carried on secretly under Dr. Glover's personal supervision, even to such details as feeding the animal and its inoculation and care, at intervals, covering a period of at least 18 months."

"Dr. Glover has distributed a limited amount of the serum to hospitals in various parts of the country to be tested under pledge of secrecy and without charge, pending the official announcement. From these experiments, highly favorable reports of results which coincide with the results obtained in Philadelphia over a period of 18 months."

"Associated in the work with Dr. Glover are two Philadelphia physicians, Dr. J. T. Bonnell and Dr. M. P. Warmuth, both members of the staff of the National Stomach hospital, where the first clinic was established late in 1922. To these doctors was assigned the work of determining the value of the serum in practical use, the best method of administration and proper dosage."

"The discovery is expected to be presented before a medical society within six weeks."

last twenty years. His financial gifts were numerous and each one very large when the move prompted him to aid Lowell's great institution for the care and treatment of the city's incapacitated inhabitants.

During the years of his generous benefactions, ever the powerful mainstay of Lowell General Hospital's successful career to the present day, Mr. Ayer aimed to create new hospital administrative resources and aid in the installation of latest equipment for numerous branches of the hospital work. The total amount of Mr. Ayer's gifts of money to the hospital corporation reached a sum closely approaching $200,000. It was stated this morning by Mr. John F. Sawyer, vice-president of the Union National bank, who is hospital treasurer.

The Ayer benefactions started a little more than twenty years ago—about the year 1903, the first gift in direct financial aid of the hospital being a check for $100,000. Later on, checks of good size were contributed whenever the hospital needs and aspirations called for financial aid.

Mr. Ayer was responsible for the establishment of the first outdoor camps for the treatment of tuberculosis in this city. The finances were handled by Mr. Ayer exclusively, although the results of the venture did not meet with his highest wishes.

The different building additions made to the general hospital in the years that followed the first liberal benefaction, were provided for by the Ayer gifts of money in abundance to cover every important need and carry through all worthy efforts aimed for the benefit of Lowell and its inhabitants.

Other Benefactions

In January, 1919, he made a gift of $25,000 to the Lowell Day Nursery association, $50,000 for an endowment fund, $25,000 to pay on the indebtedness of the association after the purchase of the property in Kirk street. In all, Mr. Ayer had given the Lowell Day Nursery association about $70,000.

Indeed, if it had not been for the generosity of Mr. Ayer, it is doubtful if the Lowell public school would enjoy the high distinction it does at the present time. In all, Mr. Ayer made gifts of $165,000 to the school, including Southwick hall, named after his mother, Josephine Mellon Southwick. The Ayer home in Pawtucket street existed for many years through Mr. Ayer's generosity. The O'Leary home in 1010 Central street, which Mr. Ayer presented a memorial library costing $10,000, and there were other gifts to Lowell institutions and outside organizations which never have been publicly known.

Mr. Ayer was the majority stockholder of the Tremont and Suffolk mills of Lowell, a director of the New York Tribune association, a director of the Keweenaw Association, Ltd., and for a number of years was president of the Lowell and Andover railroad.

Mr. Ayer never married and is survived only by a brother and a sister, for trial later.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS OF $400,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The government will close its books for this fiscal year on June 30, with a surplus of between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000. Director Lord of the budget bureau today informed President Coolidge.

"The process of obtaining this surplus is similar to that followed in the case of diphtheria antitoxin, in that the horse is the medium. DEATH Baffles BROCKTON POLICE

BROCKTON, June 8.—Brockton police are baffled as to the cause of death of Joseph Kruczek, 22 Intervale street, who died at noon today at the Brockton hospital, from head injuries. He was found by the Brockton police in his dooryard Thursday night in the Polish section in a semi-conscious condition. The police say no ante-mortem statement of injury was evidently caused by a blunt instrument, possibly a bottle. His wife is being closely interrogated.

MURDER MYSTERY AT MANCHESTER, N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Guided by the smell of fire, inmates of the house at 18 Manhattan lane early last night went to the room of Mrs. Katherine Kruczek, 35, and found the woman dead, with knife wounds about the body and her face crushed in by some blunt instrument. An attempt had been made to burn the body by pouring kerosene over it and lighting the oil.

Police are looking for Stanley Klepka, known to have been a friend of Mrs. Kruczek. They desire to question him to get information concerning Mrs. Kruczek's actions before her death.

Mrs. Kruczek was separated from her husband.

law could be started and that pending that time administrative expenses would be the only necessary. Favorable action on the bill, however, it was indicated after today's conference, would meet the situation.

Federal income taxpayers, however, who made full payments on March 15, will not be able to get their 15 per cent refund until the new revenue law until the bill is passed. An appropriation of more than $100,000,000 was used in making the refund, which was carried in the bill.

There were no indications whatever of either the bill, had any intention of calling a special session of congress to pass the bill, which carried appropriations of about $25,000,000, although Director Lord declared that there was no way of obtaining the funds otherwise. The president could not under the law, he said, declare a deficit except in an emergency in which life and death.

The state department and coast guard service are among other government agencies most severely affected by failure of the bill. Funds to meet the increases in salaries and changes authorized by the Rogers bill, concentrating the foreign service of the state department were curtailed in the measure.

of the body and reported death due to multiple cuts about the head and neck caused by a sharp instrument and that the side of the victim's face had been battered in, apparently by the blunt end of an axe. Attorney General J. P. McKeely, of New Hampshire, was notified and aided with the Manchester police in investigating the case. As a result of their investigation, the Lowell police were warned to be on the lookout for Klepka and to arrest him on sight for the murder of Mrs. Kruczek.

According to information gained here this morning, Mrs. Kruczek had not lived with her husband for some time and is afraid of him. Until her husband is located and placed under arrest, the Lowell police will maintain a strict surveillance over her residence as well as throughout the Polish districts.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 14

Of course all of the riders had white lights on. The little girl wore a little skirt and a fancy bow in her hair. Jack thought she looked very pretty. He was wondering what he would wear when a bundle of clothing was brought in to him. "This will make the crowd laugh," said the rider.

Jack was very much surprised to find a long pair of trousers, a checkered blouse, large shoes and a tall silk hat. "Better put those on," laughed the little girl. "You will look funny in them and all of the children will laugh." So Jack was helped into the queer looking outfit.

Shortly a beautiful white horse was led up to the outside of the little tent. "This is the horse we ride," explained the girl. "Come on now, it is time for us to go in." So Jack and the riders walked to the main ring of the big tent again. The horse started running around. (Continued.)

SMITH FOR STATE LAW ON LIQUORS

Congress to Fix Sensible Maximum and Leave Rest to Each State

Says K. K. K. Contrary to Principles Upon Which Country Was Founded

NEW YORK, June 8.—A revision of the Volstead act to allow states to dispose of liquor as they see fit, is urged by Governor Alfred E. Smith in the first public statement on the subject issued since he became a candidate for the democratic nomination for president.

Governor Smith, in replying to an inquiry regarding his stand on prohibition, also said he believed the Ku Klux Klan to be "contrary to the very principles upon which this country was founded."

He said he favored having congress fix a maximum of alcoholic content "based upon science and sound reasoning," allowing each state to establish for itself whatever alcoholic content it chose, so long as it did not overlap the limit set in the national law. Whatever alcoholic strength is made legal in future, the saloon has gone for good, he believes.

He urged strengthening of the federal laws with regard to interstate commerce and the importation of strong liquors. He said that most of the liquor consumed in this state was smuggled from foreign countries.

The governor stated his views in a letter to D. Robertson Browne, of New York, chairman of the Self-Determination League of Liberty.

Mr. Browne had written to ask the governor where he stood on the prohibition question and what he thought of the reported efforts of the governor's friends to prevent the insertion of an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank in the democratic platform.

Would Fix Alcohol Standard

"I maintain that the present hypocritical attitude towards the whole question of prohibition would be greatly relieved," wrote the governor, "by having congress fix a maximum alcoholic content based upon science and sound reasoning, thereafter leaving every state to enact any statute it pleases with regard to regulation of the traffic in light wines and beer within that alcoholic content, so that the state that desires strict prohibition may have it, and the state that desires light wines and beer within the alcoholic content may have it."

Speaking of the Ku Klux Klan, the governor said: "In the latter part of your letter you speak about the attitude of my friends in an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank in the democratic national platform."

condemns Ku Klux

"I do not know what you mean by my friends. I have a great many of them. None of them thinks for me. I think for myself."

"It seems almost a waste of time, after my long public career, for it to be necessary for me to say anything about any individual or group of individuals or any organization that questions the nationality, the race, the creed or the religion of any American. I have repeatedly said in public speech that nothing is or could be so contrary to the very principles upon which this country was founded.

"As a boy and as a man I have always read with a great deal of delight the immortal words that Jefferson wrote in the Declaration of Independence: 'That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.'"

Liberty Within the Law

"I take that liberty to mean liberty within law, and certainly it is within the law that any man worship God according to his own inclination. Certainly that declaration draws no color line and certainly it was intended to refer to all citizens, whether born under the flag or whether brought under it by an act of admission to it."

"There is no committee or any other power that I know of that will at this time or at any other time prevent me from giving free expression to just what I think about any public question. I make as many mistakes as any other human being, but I will never make the mistake of being afraid to talk out."

"The amount of light wines and beer to be sold in states that chose to legalize the traffic, as well as the manner and methods of their sale, should be left to the state legislatures," said the governor. "The state might well say that it could be sold only for consumption in the home, or it might well say it would be sold only in properly regulated hotels and restaurants."

New York saloon of 1920 (which permitted the sale of beverages of 2.75 per cent of alcoholic content) was very strong in its language as to places where wine and beer could be sold and made impossible the opening of the saloon."

Saloon Gone for Good

Whatever alcoholic strength is made legal in future, the saloon has gone for good, the governor believes. He referred to a memorandum that he issued when he signed the bill repealing the Mullan-Gage act, the New York state prohibition law which followed the lines of the Volstead act, and added: "I repeat the declaration I there made that the saloon in and ought to be a defunct institution in this country. I never expect to see it again."

The governor asserted he had always favored strict enforcement of all laws, and that he had obtained last winter a substantial increase in the state police force to suppress violations of the Volstead act.

Stands For Enforcement

He said he had made clear in the Mullan-Gage memorandum his determination to enforce the federal prohibition law. "I have never failed since then," he added, "to give my personal attention to any and all complaints that have been made to me about any lack of law enforcement, following up every such complaint with all the detailed work that goes with it."

The governor urged strengthening of the federal laws with regard to interstate commerce and the importation of strong liquors. He said that most of the liquor consumed in this state was smuggled from foreign countries.

"If the federal government sincerely and honestly desired to limit that traffic, it is within its power to do it," he asserted. "I cannot help taking my position with those who believe that the attitude taken by the government at Washington on the question of prohibition is one that is intended to open the 'flood' and whether consciously or unconsciously to leave the 'weeds' open to a certain form of political blackmail."

Speaking of the Ku Klux Klan, the governor said: "In the latter part of your letter you speak about the attitude of my friends in an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank in the democratic national platform."

GAVE PLEASING RECITAL

Pupils of Miss Georgianna Desrosiers Heard to Advance in Fine Program

The graduation and annual recital by the pupils of Miss Georgianna Desrosiers, teacher of piano, was held last evening in Colonial hall.

Before a capacity audience, the pupils, assisted by Mr. Rodolpho Janson LaPalme, harpist, Mr. Archie Lavalley, tenor, and Mr. Anthony Desrosiers, cornetist, gave a most enjoyable and varied program.

The stage, prettily arranged with palms and flowers, made a most appropriate setting for the artists.

Prelude by Rachmaninoff, a duet, interpreted by the Misses Marcelle Robichaud and Marie Anne Gagnon, was excellently rendered and established the quality of the fine program which followed.

Mr. Archie Lavalley entertained

A coat of COLORED ENAMEL will not only make porch furniture look better, but will add to its length of service.

Nothing is so pleasing to the eye as a "spic and span" kitchen or bathroom done in white enamel. Go to Coburn's for Flow Kote enamel. It can be cleaned as easily as a china dish any time by using a little soap and water.

Good Varnish will not only improve the appearance of almost every article in the home, but makes cleaning and dusting easier. At Coburn's you can get Naville Varnish for exterior use, such as doors and porch swings. Quart, $1.40; Supremis Varnish for floors, Quart, $1.40; Shipolium Varnish for woodwork and furniture, Quart, $1.40; and Chl-No Flat Varnish for rubbed effects which can be produced without the labor and expense of hand rubbing. ## Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth

You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and

BEAN CANDIDATE FOR STATE TREASURER

BOSTON, June 8.—Deputy State Auditor James W. Bean of Cambridge is a candidate for the republican nomination for state treasurer. In a statement issued yesterday, Mr. Bean says he asks "for the consideration of the republican voters on his experience in state affairs and his training and qualifications for the position." His statement continues as follows:

"I have served three years as a member of the house ways and means committee and three years on the senate ways and means committee, having been first appointed to the latter by President Calvin Coolidge. For six years Mr. Bean wrestled with the financial problems of the state, and has for years been recognized as an authority on financial questions.

"He has always been a strong advocate of the 'pay as you go' policy. He was also a leader in the movement which resulted in the substitution of the serial bond system of financing the state in place of the old sinking fund system. When the Cambridge subway was taken over by the state, Mr. Bean suggested that the purchase be financed by a sinking fund as provided in the original bill.

"He was chairman of the special committee in 1913 which reported the budget act, his associates on the subcommittee on budget being Joseph E. Warner, ex-speaker, and B. Loring Young, the present speaker of the house. During the past five years he has been deputy state auditor, a considerable part of his work having been in connection with the preparation of the annual budget for submission to

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

Unless otherwise specified, these recipes are planned for four persons.

CAKE MAKING

For the June bride who has been too busy with other things to fuss around her mother's kitchen making cake for "over Sunday," this "just how" story is planned.

The best materials, accurate measurements and careful baking are the first requisites of a successful cake.

A standard measuring cup and spoons should be part of the equipment. And beware of a recipe reading "heaping" teaspoon or cup, or "tear" or "coffee" cup. All measurements should be level and every bit of the ingredient measured should be put into the cake. If you leave a tablespoon or more of butter sticking to the measuring cup, your cake will lose that much richness and perhaps that fluffiness you so much enjoy in your neighbor's cake.

Always follow the method of mixing described in the rule. There's a reason for doing things a certain way and if you have faith in the recipe follow instructions explicitly.

The inexperienced baker usually has more trouble regulating her oven than mixing her cake. And no matter how carefully you're mixed, if the oven isn't right, the finished cake can't be what you want it. Put your cake on the middle grate of the oven and as near the center as possible. This insures even heat on all sides and above and below. If your oven bakes too hard on the bottom, set a dripping pan of water under the cake on the bottom of the oven.

"I Am Thin"

Her Friend Says: "She is Far Too Thin"

If she only knew that she could put on at least 5 pounds of good, healthy flesh in 30 days she wouldn't be worrying about her peaked face and run-down looks.

She has tried Cod Liver Oil, but the distasteful, nasty-tasting stuff upset her stomach and made her feel worse than before.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamins that make flesh, create appetite, build up the power to resist disease, and chase away nervousness.

But it's horrible-tasting stuff and few people are taking it for doctors are prescribing it and the people are fast learning that they can get better results with McEwen's Cod Liver Oil.

It's a wonderful appetizing medicine for children, especially after sickness, and sixty tablets only cost 66 cents.

One woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days. Many others in every day women can't put on 5 pounds in 30 days, your druggist will gladly return the purchase price.

Mother's know a dose of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN Will keep them fit

'First Aid' For Sick Children

THE experienced mother is not alarmed when a child becomes sick. She knows that most of the ailments of childhood are trifling. If it seems serious she calls a doctor, but whether or not she calls him she gives, first of all, a good laxative medicine. The doctor would advise that anyway. It is his "first aid." Such experienced mothers as Mrs. Everett E. Hunt of Belzoni, Okla., who has three children and never any sickness, and Mrs. F. B. Kuklenski of Prosser, Wash., always give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first indication of sickness. Such timely doses have saved them much worry.

The Meaning of "Good"

All doctors agree that a thorough cleaning out of the bowels is of first importance for it removes dangerous intestinal poisons. They will also advise a "good laxative" and by "good" they mean one that is effective and yet harmless. They know that there are poisons that never should be given to children—calomel, which is mercury and loosens the teeth; phenolphthalein, a cool-drug that causes skin trouble; salts, which concentrate the blood and dry up the salivary glands. They consider Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin safe for all ages as they know it is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian pepsin with pepsin and agreeable aromatics. The formula is on the package.

Give Laxative for Colds

Adults should have at least one movement of the bowels every 24 hours, and children two or three. Failure to have it means constipation, then headache, biliousness, drowsiness, lack of appetite. Give a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and there will be health and good feeling by morning. A dose costs less than a cent, and a bottle can be had at any drug store. Colds and constipation come together, so if you notice coughing or sneezing stop it at once with Syrup Pepsin.

Radio is taking the child off mother's lap and putting it to sleep with a broadcasting bedtime story.

Throughout the country men and women who love children and devote most of their time to entertainment and development of the youngsters, are being featured in the programs of the broadcasting stations.

Practically every station has its children's hour some time between 4 and 8 in the evening, when the little boy or girl is tired and cross, and sleep and the journey into dreamland is begun with a short fantastic tale.

Of these, some have won special fame among the little ones, through the adventures of Peter Rabbit, who encourages the children to write stories and poetry and the best are read on the air each week.

Children of the south never fail to tune in on WBB, Atlanta, when they know Bonnie Barnhart is to begin Bonnie's Bedtime Corner with a story.

"Man in Moon"

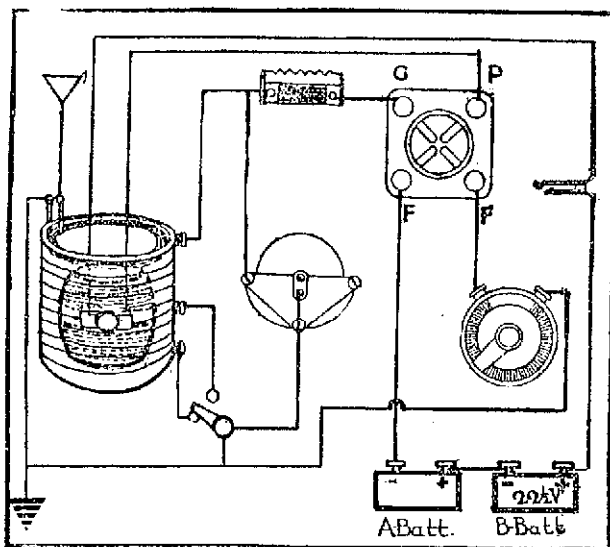

One of the most famous men telling children bedtime stories by radio is the "Man in the Moon" of WOR, Newark, N. J. He is William F. R. McNeary, who has the moon saying down upon his little listeners and hangs bright stars over the homes of the good children.

The "Dream Daddy" of radio is Harry Ehrhart of WDAI, at Philadelphia. Ehrhart takes his listeners, nightly on his dreamland train through storyland and back home.

Uncle Wip of station WIP, Philadelphia, is another popular children's entertainer. He is Chris Graham in real life. He meets the children every Saturday morning at the studio with lollipops for all.

Other noted bedtime story tellers are Louise Seaman, the storybook lady of WJZ, New York; Jerry Wyman, who is Uncle Kaybee at WCAE, Pittsburgh; and Walter Wilson, who is Uncle Bob at KYW, Chicago.

Little Annoyance, More Selectivity Out of Single Circuit Tuner

HOOK-UP DIAGRAM OF SINGLE CIRCUIT TUNER CONVERTED INTO A THREE-CIRCUIT SET

By ISRAEL KLEIN

N.E.A. Service Radio Editor

The simple single circuit tuner need not be discarded just because it lacks selectivity and annoys your neighbor. Both these difficulties can be corrected. First, by converting the tuner into a three-circuit set. Second, by making a slight change in the inductance.

Introduce an untuned antenna inductance and the matter of overradiation is practically eliminated. Tap the middle of your variable-coupler stator, and you furnish yourself with a better range for DX stations.

This has been done with the simple receiver shown here. The set originally was a single circuit tuner, having an ordinary variable-coupler stator, and you furnish yourself with a better range for DX stations.

What was done was to take the aerial off the stator entirely and add a small antenna inductance of 15 turns of No. 22 wire, about 3/4 inch in diameter, to the grid side of the stator, which now becomes the secondary inductance.

Untuned Antenna
This antenna coil is wound on a cylinder slightly smaller in diameter than the stator. It is then slid off, connected between aerial and ground, and placed on the grid side, just within the stator coil. It can be held in place by tape.

The tickler, or rotor, is connected between the plate and phones, while the stator, now the secondary, is joined to the stator plates of the variable condenser.

The other ends of the stator, consisting of a tap at the 40th winding and one at the last of 80th winding, are run to two switch taps controlling the selectivity of the circuit.

For short wave lengths and greater selectivity, the center tap will be found beneficial.

Otherwise the circuit is the same as any simple single circuit tuner. To it may be added two stages of audio frequency for listening in on the loud speaker.

For Builders
For those who want to build this set, the following parts are suggested: Variable-coupler, with antenna inductance, as described, consisting of 80 turns of No. 22 DCC wire, with a tap on the 40th turn, for the stator, and 10 turns of the same wire for the rotor.

Antenna coil of 15 turns of No. 22 DCC wire.

Variable condenser, with universal control, .00025 mfd capacity.

Grid condenser, .00025 mfd, and leak, 2 megohms.

Tube socket.

Rheostat, 5 ohms.

Switch lever, two switch taps and two switch stops.

Four binding posts, four lengths bus wire, and panel about 7 by 10 inches.

The B battery for this circuit can be of 22 volts. The tube should be a 1V-200, or a C-300. Dry cell tubes may also be used successfully on this set.

RADIO DIRECTS TRUCK

Station WJZ, Davenport, Ia., is guiding a radio equipped truck to the Pacific coast. Weather and road conditions will precede the truck on its way, while concerts received through a loud speaker will entertain crowds at the tourist camps.

WORLD WAR VETERAN TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE

Albert Paschall Came Home From France in Run-Down Condition—Neighbor Recommended Tanlac and Today He Feels Like New Man

"Here's hoping that my experience will convince others of the wonderful merits of Tanlac," said Albert A. Paschall, a World War veteran, residing at 430 East Main St., Morristown, Pa. "While in the service in France I was gassed and arrived home with my nerves badly shattered. Also my appetite deserted me and I had no much trouble from indigestion that meal time was an occasion of dread to me. In this condition I could not sleep well and always felt tired and worn-out."

"I was getting discouraged when a neighbor lady advised Tanlac, and it is to her and Tanlac that I owe the wonderful change that has come over me. I now eat well and sleep well, have no more indigestion and, in fact, Tanlac has done me a world of good and I consider it a privilege to be instrumental in letting everybody know about it."

Former Lowell League Player Daley and Slavin Win in Championship Races at State

Men at State House Show Marked Preference

Harry O'Neill, Who Played Here in 1904, and Who Set Up Two Records While With Haverhill in 1901 Gets Appointment—Has Fine Record

Lowell friends of Harry O'Neill, old time New England league ball player, who set up two league records while a member of the Haverhill club in 1901, and who later played with Lowell, Lawrence and other minor league teams, only to graduate to the Brooklyn Nationals in 1904, will be pleased to hear that he has been appointed an umpire in the Maine State League.

All who remember O'Neill's brilliant playing have confidence in his ability to make good with the bat. This will not be his first experience as an umpire. He had done considerable umpiring since retiring from active playing and early this season officiated in several Boston college games to the entire satisfaction of all.

When in the game O'Neill was known as a "brain" player, quick to see and act, when an opportunity presented itself. His record speaks for itself. He has acted as captain and manager of a number of teams and possesses a thorough knowledge of the intricacies of the national pastime.

It was while acting as captain and playing shortstop for the Haverhill team that O'Neill set up two new records which still stand. He was then but a "kid" and his flashy playing and timely hitting won him many big league scouts to New England parks to "look him over."

That year he set up the mark of playing 18 consecutive games at shortstop without an error and in Portland one afternoon he participated in a double-header and accepted 22 chances at shortstop without a slip-up. Many of his chances were of the most difficult order but he handled all cleanly and with dispatch.

He remained in Haverhill as captain and shortstop the following year. In 1903 he played with Lawrence and the next year he came to Lowell. The following two years he played with the Haverhill and Waterville teams in the Maine Trolley League. His spectacular playing brought him a contract with the Brooklyn National League team in 1905.

He was going good when an injury to his arm put him out of the game. Later he returned as a member of the Virginia State League and managed the Old Point Comfort team in 1912. In 1913 and 1914 he umpired in Pennsylvania. The following years he returned to New England to accept a position as player-manager of one of the Haverhill shop teams and he won the pennant. His team played a series with the Haverhill N. E. team and O'Neill's charges came out victorious.

Since that time O'Neill has confined his activities to playing independently and umpiring college and other games. He is married and lives in Lawrence. His appointment as umpire came yesterday from Special H. H. Morrison of Brewer, Maine. He will report for duty on June 23, when the season will be opened to continue until labor day without an error and in Portland one afternoon he participated in a double-header and accepted 22 chances at shortstop without a slip-up. Many of his chances were of the most difficult order but he handled all cleanly and with dispatch.

Pitcher Clears Bases in Game With Pittsburgh—Leaders Beaten in American League—Daring Base Running By Archdeacon of White Sox

NEW YORK, June 8.—Discontent among the bourgeoisie of the big leagues, evidenced by sporadic uprisings of individual clubs, has assumed the proportions of full rebellion in the American circuit.

New York and Boston tied for the leadership, and Detroit, one game behind, a triumvirate, which has dominated the league since the season began, recently joined the first division forces, were yesterday defeated in a mass attack by the lower four.

During the action, however, the insurgents but their leader, St. Louis, which moved into fourth place as Washington dropped to fifth. The Browns defeated the world's champion, the Yankees, 4 to 0. The Red Sox, who had been abandoned their hitless tactics and fell upon three Boston pitchers for a 10 to 3 victory.

Watson of the Giants made his first homer of his career in a game with Pittsburgh. The archdeacon of the White Sox cleared the bases in a game with Pittsburgh. The archdeacon of the White Sox cleared the bases in a game with Pittsburgh.

BOSTON TEAM, 3 TO 2

The Checker Taxi team of Boston defeated Ricard's Belmonts in a well played game on the South common yesterday afternoon by a score of 3 to 2. The game developed into a fine pitchers' battle between McNell of Boston and Ordway of Lowell. McNell's decision on a play at the plate in the 4th inning, caused the Checker team to lose the game. ## TIMELY TIPS FOR AMATEURS

SAYS STEVE O'NEILL, Boston Red Sox Catcher

A catcher cannot be too particular about his glove. If you would be a catcher, and a good one, you must have the very best glove you can get.

This glove must fit your hand properly and meet with your approval. A great many catchers use the big glove I prefer a small one.

My objection to the big glove is that it interferes with the catcher in handling a slow hit ground ball in front of the plate. The big glove also makes it harder to put the ball on the runner in a play at the plate. The ball sticks much better in a small pocket, will break in.

Never fail to back up first base, when there is no possible play at the plate. The value of this practice is never appreciated except when you fail to back up and the infielder makes a natural mistake back of the plate that enables you to shift easily, as a hobby of mine on catching. Ability to shift the feet quickly to meet every situation is most essential to the catcher.

My position back of the plate calls for the right foot to be about four inches back of the left. I find this puts me in a position to throw with little or no effort.

HARRY WILLS MEETS MADDEN TONIGHT

NEW YORK, June 8.—With the chance to earn the right to meet Lou Forno and Jack Dempsey as a second incentive to victory, Harry Wills will engage Bartley Madden in a second bout at the new Queensboro Stadium tonight. This will be Wills' first real battle in two years, and will work the first successful attempt out of five efforts to being the two heavyweights together during the past six months. Injuries to Wills and interference by the department officials prevented the other four scheduled bouts.

The experts are practically unanimous in predicting a victory for Wills. Madden, however, is confident he can win.

It is generally conceded that Wills must put Madden away in order to prove himself a worthy challenger to Dempsey.

In spite of the heavy rainstorm yesterday, there was a heavy demand for tickets for tonight's fight. Among the more ardent observers will be Tex Rickard, who hopes to match Wills and Dempsey at Boyle's Third Acres in Jersey City later in the summer.

PALUSO-MURPHY MATCH

Much Discussed Battle on Moody Club Card for Thursday Night

By orders of the state boxing commission Low Paluso, Salt Lake City, will come to Lowell Thursday night to meet Billy Murphy and thereby fulfill his contract with the Moody club.

Two weeks ago Paluso and Murphy were matched but on the eve of the battle a wife from Los Angeles, manager of Paluso, conveyed the information that Low was suffering from an eye injury, and hence could not perform. Frankie Rossi, champion of Wales was secured to fill in, and he gave the Lowell boy a battle.

Matchmaker Dodge, however, suffered a considerable financial loss because of Paluso's action and he appealed to the boxing commission. He presented Paluso's contract and the commissioners ruled that Paluso must fight here or stand suspended. Paluso agreed to abide by the edict.

The Paluso-Murphy match has been in the air for many months. A number of previous attempts to bring the pair together failed. Paluso's persistent refusal to accept terms led many to believe he was afraid of the Lowell sensation. This he emphatically denies and he further states that he will win and make the highly touted Low a stepping stone to the title. He is training daily in Boston, under the direction of Al McKean, and reports say he is in the pink of condition.

Bouts in Nashua

The card arranged by the Nashua boxing club, originally set for last Friday night, but postponed until tonight will be on at the Nashua theatre at 8:15 daylight saving time. In the event of rain this show will be held in the Nashua theatre. Frankie King and Vic Hirsch head the bill. A novel feature will be a battle royal by six colored boxers.

ABBOT WORSTED TAKES WINTHROP TEAM

Abbot Worsted defeated the Wintthrop town team at Wintthrop Saturday by a score of 4 to 1. Yesterday afternoon, the team traveled to Ware and played four innings, when the game was called off on rain. Frankie, the Abbot's catcher, an old rival at O'Sullivan park, Lawrence, in the Lawrence Independents, leaders in the Boston Trolley League. Many Lowell fans are planning on taking in the game.

KANSAS CAN HIT

Rocky Kansas is about through an a fighter, but he still takes a powerful punch. The Buffalo veteran dropped Johnny Dundee twice some weeks ago and in a more recent bout dropped Freddie Jack, the Englishman.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

CLEVELAND, June 8.—There is talk of holding the 1925 national women's championship golf tournament in Cleveland. The Kirkland Country club announced today that it was informed Miss Helen Calvert, Providence, R. I., and Miss Alex Stirling, Atlanta, Ga., former champions, will inspect its course this summer and upon their findings the United States Golf association will make its decision.

TEX O'ROURKE SEEKS DOG SHOW PLANS NOW NEW HEAVYWEIGHT WELL UNDER WAY

MR. T. O'ROURKE
Tex O'Rourke, American Irishman with a full quota of entangling eccentrics, is in England trying to develop a non-floppable heavyweight. As soon as he conquers this double jointed miracle around the bases for the winning run he will return and prove that other impossibilities are not only possible but long overdue.

Mr. O'Rourke's next number, ladies and gentlemen, will be the selection of a republican cabinet without the assistance of a black cat, an oil prospectus, or a little house in K street.

The Americanistic missionary is making progress with an astonishing lack of speed. After 10 months he has advanced to a point where he can look at one of his pupils and keep a straight face, almost.

However, no British heavyweight manages to keep a straight face long. Either a Carpenter or a Dempsey comes along with a straight right and the surgeons have another job.

Mr. O'Rourke has three promising heavies in Price, Prestage and Ingleton, all of whom have promised to remember to get back on their feet, if possible, before the count of "ten."

It is said that Price is the best of the simple bunch, which may be like saying the Athletics are the best eighth place ball club in the American league.

One of the questions Professor O'Rourke puts to his advanced class in backward flopping is, "What is the strategical thing to do on being knocked down?"

The answer is, of course, "Call for a great pillow."

Another question is, "In boxing Dempsey is it advisable to conduct an aggressive or defensive battle?"

The answer is, "It is advisable to ignore the boulder entirely."

Mr. O'Rourke wants three Americans of about the same caliber of his pupils to visit England and engage in some sort of quality putting exercises.

What an excellent chance for Fred Fulton if he had been born triplite!

FAMOUS FOR QUALITY

OLD CATCHING STARS PASS OUT OF MAJORS

By BILLY EVANS
The standard of major league catching is constantly fluctuating. Good catchers seem to run in cycles. When a crop of veteran stars begin to fade for a few years the catching end of the game suffers.

With the quality of major league catchers starting to show below par, because the star of several famous receivers are beginning to set, attention is called to the rookies.

In James W. Taylor of the Brooklyn Superbas the National league believes it has one of the coming stars, a catcher, who will soon take his place with the leaders.

In the American league time and service is beginning to show on the brilliant Ray Schalk, the clever Steve O'Neill and the hardworking Wally Schang. Hank Severoid is one veteran who seems as good as ever.

Veterans Slowing Up
A similar condition exists in the National league. Several of the stars of yesterday are beginning to slow up. Any number of major league leaders are crying for catchers.

Take the Giants of today. The catching staff is made up of three veterans, Hank Gowdy, Frank Snyder and Ed Alsmith. All have passed the 30 mark.

A few years ago the National league picked up two great young catchers in "Tuffy" Henline and Bob O'Farrell. Manager Phil Killefer of the Chicago Cubs regards O'Farrell as the best young catcher in the majors.

Who is the best looking young catcher in your league?

I have put that question to many veteran National league stars since the opening of the season. The reply is usually the same.

Veteran Land Taylor
"Taylor of Brooklyn. He's the best young catcher to come up since Frank Snyder was a star with the Cardinals, back in 1914."

Taylor reported to the Superbas in the fall of the 1920 season, graduating from the Charlotte club.

The catchers on Wilbert Robinson's bench last year were Otto Miller, Ernest Krueger and Harold "Reddy" Elliott.

The leader was Miller, but Otto was fading and fading. Krueger, a hard runner, could not stop the active base runners in the National league, while Elliott also failed to come up to the major league standard.

Manager Robinson immediately took a liking to Taylor, and in a splendid setting, the Commodore ball room of Times Square—formerly the Casino—has been secured for the "A.K.C." exhibit this year. No more attractive or larger place could be found for the great dog show than this same building in an easily accessible location.

This year's Kennel club show is being conducted for the benefit of Lowell Humane society, and that organization is leading every effort, in conjunction with Lowell Kennel club's rank and file, to make next Thursday's busy canine bazaar show a conspicuous success.

Lowell patrons of the Kennel club, and all outside friends, will find the 1924 show in a splendid setting. The Commodore ball room of Times Square—formerly the Casino—has been secured for the "A.K.C." exhibit this year. No more attractive or larger place could be found for the great dog show than this same building in an easily accessible location.

Condition means more to a pitcher than any other man on the ball field," remarked "Lefty" Laidlaw, veteran star, the other day as we were discussing pitchers past and present.

"A great many pitchers make the mistake of confining their attention to the mere throwing of the ball to the batter," continued Lefty, who in his day ranked as one of the greatest southpaws.

"Ability to field is a great pitching asset. A pitcher who can hit adds much strength to his club."

"However, to make use of these various assets the pitcher must be properly conditioned."

Laidlaw's line of reasoning interested me. The angle was new. I asked him for an explanation.

"A pitcher often has trouble making three bases on a hit that would have been an easy home run for the ordinary runner," said Lefty.

"Very often you have seen the same pitcher taken out of the box the next inning. His 200-yard run had taken so much out of him that it caused him to lose his bearings."

"That shouldn't be. There is no reason why a run around the bases should fatigue the pitcher more than any other player on the club, if he is properly conditioned."

It was game time and the discussion was closed for the time being. Unquestionably the fine pitching of the Boston Red Sox staff has played a big part in the early success of the club. On the whole, the staff has seemed better conditioned than the opposing club pitcher.

The very next day I was given a practical demonstration of why the Boston staff was so well conditioned, which was also a verification of Lefty's system.

Getting out to the Boston park an hour ahead of game time I took a seat in the rear of the grandstand.

I noted that the players in the outfield comprised the entire Boston pitching staff, with the exception of the reliever selected to start the game and the relief pitcher.

During batting practice it is not unusual for the pitchers to give chase to fly balls in the outfield. The thought is to afford enough exercise to keep them in shape.

Lefty's system, however, is entirely different. He bats fly balls to the pitchers just as he bats the outfielders. He calls the name of the pitcher who is to give chase to the next ball. Then he hits the fly ball that the pitcher whose name is called will have to travel from home up to 100 yards in an effort to make the catch.

This procedure is kept up for nearly an hour. I saw that the pitchers on the Boston club, last three times the exercise daily of any other staff in the majors. No doubt that is the secret of the team's early success.

METHOD OF SCORING FOR OLYMPICS DECIDED UPON

PARIS, June 9 (By the Associated Press)—The Olympic authorities definitely decided today that in scoring the athletics events during the big week of July 5-13, ten points will be given for first place, five for second, four for third, three for fourth, two for fifth and one for sixth.

This method of scoring with its discrepancy of five points between first and second places is regarded in American Olympic circles as advantageous to the Olympic chances of Finland, which has for some time been considered a strong rival of the United States in track and field events. The Finnish team is believed to be almost certain of six or seven first places and obviously it will be difficult for the second string men to catch up under these circumstances.

Questions
1. Is it possible for a pitcher to be shifted to some other position and then be recalled as a pitcher?—A. D.

2. If the umpire calls a balk on the pitcher, as the pitcher delivers the ball, which the batter hits for a home run, what happens?—R. C.

3. If a runner going over from second to third is retired at that base, because the shortstop obstructed him just enough to cause the out, what is the ruling?—C. C.

Answers
1. A player can be used at any position provided he remains in the game.

2. The moment the umpire calls a balk, the ball becomes dead, making no play possible, and rendering void the home run that was hit.

3. The runner is entitled to advance to the base to which he was going if the fielder obstructed his way and prevented him from making that base.

If you want the final decision on any baseball dispute, write Billy Evans, N.E.A. Service, 1200 W. Third St., Cleveland.

Questions
1. If a bill batted down the foul line strikes either third or first base, does it go into play or not?—J. W.

2. How does an umpire determine what is an infield fly?—W. T. W.

3. Does an umpire at any time give consideration as to whether or not an interference is intentional?—Reader.

Answers
1. The moment a batted ball strikes first or third it becomes a fair ball, regardless of how far foul it may then go.

2. It is merely a matter of opinion or judgment. Any ball which the umpire believes can be handled by an infielder immediately becomes an infield fly.

3. The umpire can never give consideration to the intent on an interference play. If it happens, he must call it.

PAINTING SOLD FOR $100 WORTH $20,000

NEW YORK, June 8.—A painting which sold at auction two months ago for less than $100, and was later picked up at approximately $100 by Grosvenor B. Clarkson, director of the council of national defense under the Wilson administration, has been identified as a Gainsborough.

It is a portrait of Mrs. Garrick, wife of the noted actor. G. Frank Muller, one of the leading experts on 18th century English paintings, pronounced it a Gainsborough and said that $20,000 was a conservative valuation for it.

KATO TO FORM NEW CABINET

Accepts Command of Prince
Regent Hirohito to Form
Japanese Ministry

Will Succeed That of Former
Premier Kiyoura—Will Be
Coalition Affair

TOKIO, June 8.—(By the Associated Press) Viscount Kato tonight accepted the command of Prince Regent Hirohito to form a new cabinet, asking, however, that he be given a few days. His ministry will succeed that of former Premier Kiyoura, and will be a coalition affair, according to the vernacular newspaper.

The Prince Regent previously had refused to accept the resignation of the Kiyoura government, deferred such acceptance until the selection of a successor in accordance with Japanese tradition.

An imperial messenger consulted with Prince Saionji, the elder statesman, yesterday. Viscount Kato at one time served under Prince Saionji, as a cabinet member, and is considered as a forerunner of the new cabinet. The new cabinet leader is a member of the Japanese nobility. He has had a long and successful career in governmental affairs. A graduate of the law college of the Imperial Tokyo university in 1881, he served in the foreign office, was transferred to the finance office and eventually became director of the banking bureau and taxation bureau. Later he returned to the foreign office. From 1915 to 1920 he represented Japan in England. In 1920 and 1921, he was minister of foreign affairs, and again in 1922 and 1923 he held the same post. He has sat twice in the lower house and served in two previous cabinets.

MARSAL FORMS NEW FRENCH CABINET

PARIS, June 8.—(By the Associated Press) The "ministère de l'interieur" is one of the names given to the cabinet formed by M. Francois-Marsal, inasmuch as he was constituted primarily to lay before parliament President Millerand's message explaining the political situation as he sees it and allowing the new majority of the left to go forward against him if it chooses, in which case he will resign.

Another appellation for the admittedly stop-gap administration is the "ministère d'un jour." However, if the anticipated program proves correct, the day will be considerably over 24 hours, for it and when M. Millerand resigns, he will ask M. Francois-Marsal to carry on until a new premier is appointed by the new president, and it is the present premier who will accompany the chief executive from Versailles to Paris after the election, in accordance with tradition.

STATE READY FOR MURDER TRIAL

Attorney Crowe Says Notes
Cling State's "Perfect
Hanging Case"

Will Also Serve in Court to Prove Both Leopold and
Loeb Sane, He Says

CHICAGO, June 8.—Notes taken by Richard Loeb, while Nathan Leopold's confession of the murder of Robert Franks was being read to him, and notes by Leopold, while Loeb's confession was being read, in turn are being guarded zealously by Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, it being his contention that the notes, as well as clinching the state's "perfect hanging case" against the boys, will serve in a court to prove them both sane.

The notes were made, it was revealed, when Mr. Crowe directed that the confession of each of the young millionaire's sons be read to the other, and each objected to certain incriminating or inaccurate statements. Each was given a pad of paper, and Loeb, in his precise manner, noted numbered exceptions to Leopold's confession as read by the stenographer who had taken it down, while Leopold noted fragmentary exceptions closely grouped in the corner of a sheet of paper.

Mr. Crowe announced last night that the state was ready for trial. The boys will be arraigned Wednesday and he will try to have the trial date set for July 15, the soonest possible under criminal court procedure.

COTTON DEPRESSION IS WORLD-WIDE

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The depression in the cotton manufacturing industry has been found by the tariff commission to be practically world-wide in scope, and that body sees no indications for immediate improvement. The commission's views were embodied in a reply to a senate resolution by Sen. David Walsh of Massachusetts, made public today.

Replying to that phase of the resolution concerning reasons for importation into the United States of cotton fabrics the commission explained that a portion of the population which could afford finer clothes were accustomed to turning to England, France or Switzerland to supply their requirements.

The trade-marks and reputations of certain of the products provided their selling bases and the commission gave it as its opinion that consumers of the particular commodities were attached to the world over.

Regarding the inquiry on import duties, the commission replied it felt unwarranted in the absence of verified production cost figures in making recommendations for adjustment of the tariff rates. It declined to venture an opinion whether changes in the tariff duties would affect the importations.

Discussing the low volume of world sales of cotton products, the commission said there had been great reductions in the purchasing powers of consumers and this had curtailed sales from the looms and factories of the United States as well as of foreign manufacturers.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

JAPANESE TO PROBE RECENT DEMONSTRATION

TOKIO, June 8.—(By the Associated Press) "Thorough investigation will be made of the demonstration staged at a dance in the Imperial hotel Saturday evening by a group of political ruffians," it was said at the Japanese foreign office today.

Until such investigation is made, however, it is pointed out, no official action can be taken punishing the offenders. Officials expressed regret at the outbreak of vandalism which ended in a bloodbath among the crowd of foreigners attending the dance and caused two American women to faint. They emphasized, however, that the demonstration was not aimed directly against Americans but against Japanese whom the "patriotic" demonstrators were indulging in a frivolous amusement with foreigners at a time when the intruders believed that the country had been insulted.

300 MEN FIGHTING FOREST FIRES

GREENVILLE, Mo., June 8.—Three hundred men with two gasoline pumps today were keeping watch of the forest fires which started several days ago near Nahmakanta lake, north of Greenville, and west of Millbrook.

The fire, traveling northward, jumped the Rainbow lake and was at a point within two miles of Ripogenus dam, the big water storage development on the west branch of the Penobscot river, yesterday. Then the wind changed and it burned back into the burned territory.

SENIORS IN CHILDREN'S GARB AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Senior social, always a colorful affair at the Lowell high school, was held in Colburn hall from 2 to 5 o'clock this afternoon. The seniors, for once dropped the dignity attending the title of senior, the girls wearing hair bows, and some having their hair plaited prettily, and attired in childish dresses, many of which had been better days; and the boys, wearing knickerbocker suits, and carrying around a Buster Brown collar and tie, made a striking picture.

FIRECRACKERS FOR FOURTH GO ON SALE

The sale of fireworks for July 4 begins in this city tomorrow. Up to noon today, the fire department office at city hall had received 46 applications for permission to sell fireworks from tomorrow until the fourth of next month. No individual or concern is allowed to sell much goods without a certified permit.

66 CONVICTIONS IN ONE WEEK

Concerted Drive in State
Against Motor Operation
While Intoxicated

218 Licenses Suspended or
Revoked for Violations of
Motor Vehicle Laws

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, June 8.—Sixty-six persons were convicted in this state last week on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and three of them were sent to jail.

Seven of the convicted persons were charged with second offenses, for which the law clearly provides that a jail sentence shall be mandatory, yet in two cases the courts imposed fines, which were appealed; in one case a jail sentence was imposed and suspended, and in the remaining four cases of second offenders an appeal was taken in each case.

The three men who went to jail were first offenders.

In addition to the 66 convicted of operating while under the influence of liquor, there were eleven convictions on charges of operating recklessly, or so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Of these, five were fined, three were fined and a suspended jail sentence, one was fined and appealed, and one was continued for sentence.

During the week there were thirteen fatalities, ten adults and three children falling victims in motor car accidents.

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin suspended or revoked 218 licenses, this being a reduction of 60 from the previous week. Of these, 55 were for liquor charges; 14 for reckless operation, or such as to endanger the public; four for going away after an accident without giving name and address; 32 for improper operation; 38 for improper lights; and others for various causes, including 46 cases in which the registrar gave as his reason that he considered the licensee to be an improper person to be allowed to operate.

TO STOP RIDING OF BICYCLES ON COMMONS

The police drive against bicycle riding on the city commons, penalties for which are provided by city ordinance, received the support and commendation of Judge Bright in district court this morning, when the first offender arrested, Richard Poltras, was fined $20, the maximum penalty provided in the ordinance.

In imposing this fine, Judge Bright said it was not right that persons who seek rest and pleasure on the city commons should be endangered by bicyclists, and mentioned an accident which occurred on the South common about two weeks ago in which a boy received injuries which were at least partly responsible for his death in a local hospital a week after the accident.

ASKS 5-CENT GAS REDUCTION

Lambert. The letter of the mayor follows: "After a careful analysis of the evidence presented at the hearing before the public utilities commission May 28, in relation to the present revised schedule of rates for gas charged in this city, I am of the following opinion: "That the city council should by resolution request the public utilities commission for a flat reduction of five cents per one thousand cubic feet to all consumers regardless of the amount of gas consumed."

ANTI-AMERICAN MASS MEETING

4000 Vote to Vigorously Oppose Japanese Exclusion
Measure of United States

Tokio's Sunday Given Over to Various Phases of Anti-
American Agitation

HAKODATE, Japan, June 8.—(By the Associated Press) Four thousand persons attending an anti-American mass meeting today under the auspices of the Army Reservists' association, passed resolutions expressing their determination vigorously to oppose the Japanese exclusion measure of the United States.

Pilgrimage at Suicide's Grave
TOKIO, June 8.—(By the Associated Press) Tokyo's Sunday largely was given over to various phases of anti-American agitation. Throughout the day, the grave in Aoyama cemetery, that of the subject of the Mikado, who committed suicide by harikari, as a protest against enactment of the American exclusion measure was a mecca for thousands of pilgrims, who came to pay their devotion to the man who has become a martyr in the public eye.

A mammoth crowd attended a public memorial service over the grave. Hundreds of wreaths were placed around the small mound, of earth where the body lies. Viscount Kato, newly-named premier, and former Premier Takahashi sent wreaths.

The Kokumai Taiheikai or "National Association to direct American policy," and the black dragon society, another patriotic organization, were the principal promoters of the public services.

general manager of the gas company and on Feb. 27, 1924, the following statement was made: "The schedule will mean an average reduction of five cents per one thousand cubic feet." This statement is evidently not borne out by the facts as revealed in the revised rates. True, there is a reduction in a number of gas consumers; how extensive is not clearly defined, but on the other hand it is also evident that there is an advance in rates to other classes of consumers. Therefore, it cannot be argued that the public in general have benefited by these revised rates.

"Changing one class of consumer more than formerly for gas consumed and another class of consumers less, does not seem an equitable and lower rate to the public, especially so when the rates are so difficult of analysis and interpretation.

"In fact, it is argued that the reduction granted in certain classes of consumers is being offset and paid for by consumers who are obliged to pay increased rates and also permits a reasonable doubt to exist in the public mind that the Gas company is perhaps obtaining a larger revenue than formerly under the revised rates.

"If there is to be a reduction in gas rates the entire public should secure the benefit. There should be no distinction made.

"In order to justify the assurance of the Gas company contained in their letter of Feb. 27th to this office the reduction of five cents per 1000 cubic feet should apply to all gas consumers. If this is done then there can be no doubt existing in the public mind that a bona-fide reduction has really been offered the public and will not an end to further arguments in relation to gas rates and as to how such rates affect the public.

"I will approve such a resolution as herewith outlined if made by the city council to the board of public utilities."

NAME OF CHURCH IS CHANGED TO ST. RITA

Rev. John J. Powers, pastor of St. Columba's church, announced yesterday that hereafter the parish and church over which he presides will be named after St. Rita, in commemoration of the many favors that have been granted in her name.

Shortly after Fr. Powers assumed the pastorate of St. Columba's church, Drunkenness and motor vehicle law violation cases made up the greater part of this morning's docket in police court and were rapidly disposed of by Judge Bright.

James F. Regan, charged with being drunk on the South common on Saturday, was sentenced to the house of correction for a month and sentence suspended for six months. In connection with this case, Judge Bright reiterated his statement of a few days ago that he would keep the common clear of drunks even if he had to impose direct sentences.

Michael Murray was found guilty of drunkenness and fined $10. He was given a month to pay the fine. Peter J. Blanchard, drunk, was called and ordered defaulted when he failed to appear. Eugene Piche, drunk, was placed on file. A suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction was revoked in the case of Edward F. Martel, charged with drunkenness, and he was ordered committed to the state farm with a suspended sentence to the state farm when arraigned on a charge of drunkenness.

Walter and Stella Karkots were arraigned on drunkenness charges and found guilty. Suspended sentences to the state farm were imposed in each case.

Charles Mastocourts pleaded guilty to charges of driving an automobile without a license and without registration. He was fined $10 on the first count and the second was filed.

A plea of not guilty was entered in the case of Charles C. Gabriel, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence, and a continuance granted to June 19.

William James appeared in answer to a charge of driving an automobile without a license. He was arrested yesterday in Tewksbury by Chief Anthony Kelly of that town after his machine had been in collision with a parked machine. Judge Bright continued the case to Saturday for civil settlement.

Omer Hebert, Raymond St. Jean, Albert Murray, George A. Paradis, Henry Massey and Victor Pepin were fined $10 each on complaints charging them with being present where gambling was in progress. The case was heard last week and continued to today for disposal.

NEGLIGENCE FOUND IN INQUEST REPORT

The inquest report in connection with the death of John J. Murphy, aged 3 years, of 19 Fairfax street, fatally injured by an automobile operated by George H. Quirbach of the same address on May 21, was delivered to Judge Bright in district court this morning. Negligence is found in this report, but not gross nor sufficient enough to warrant a finding of criminal negligence.

The defendant was in court this morning with his attorney, Joseph P. Donahue, and after a consultation with Judge Bright concerning the possibility of a further hearing in this case, asked for a continuance to June 16, which was granted.

The accident resulted in the death of the Murphy boy occurred on the morning of May 21 in a yard occupied jointly by the Murphy and Quirbach families. According to the police report, the victim was playing about the yard on a "kiddie-car" and rode onto the garage driveway just as the defendant backed his machine from the garage. The boy received injuries to the head and died very soon after the accident.
